Will Try To 'Sell' Rhee

Dulles Favors 'Neutralizing' of Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of seeking a permanent Korean settlement on the basis of "neutralizing" the whole country probably will be discussed with President Syngman Rhee when Secretary of State Dulles meets him in Seoul next week.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) has advanced the idea of a neutralized Korea as one which might make unification of the country more appealing to the Communists and still satisfy United States and Allied security requirements.

Knowland, acting GOP leader in the Senate, is one of four senators who will accompany Dulles to Korea. The others are H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), Richard Russell (D-Ga), and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex).

The neutralization idea has received some consideration in the State Department. According to some reports, it has been mentioned to Rhee and he indicated disapproval. However, although formal U. S. policy toward Korea is presently developing along different lines, the neutralization idea is considered to be still open for exploration.

Dulles is going to Korea for the stated purpose of negotiating with Rhee on the kind of security treaty which the United States and South Korea should make.

Dulles' problem is either (A) to try to discover some formula for quick negotiation of Korean unity at the conference starting by late October, or (b) to try to persuade Rhee to give up his idea of going to war again to achieve unification by force. American officials believe Rhee could not do that without powerful assistance, which they say he would not have.

Dulles this week ruled out concession to Red China on membership in the U.N., and officials say privately the United States would never agree to let Formosa go under Communist rule. Thus the possibility of bargaining with the Reds to give up North Korea appears virtually nonexistent. This situation has stimulated fresh interest in the idea of neutralization.

CITY WATER SUPPLY

Editor of The Star: What is it that you require when it is hot and your mouth is parched and dry? The first thing that always comes to mind to alleviate this condition is a glass of good, clear, refreshing water.

Many folks in Marion complain about the high water rates, and they are high. However, I have talked with some friends of ours who have toured throughout the midwest, and they all have the same thing to say. That is: That the best drinking water they have encountered is that which we have right here in the city of Marion. Few people realize, however, how much it costs to produce drinking water of pure quality, to supply Marion, or any other large city with this, the purest of beverages.

Take the city of New York, for example: The New York water supply begins close to 150 miles north of the city. The first great reservoir for the metropolis is the Gilboa Reservoir, which is fed by streams of water originating in the Catskill Mountains. From the Gilboa Dam, the water flows through an 18-mile tunnel under the Shandaken Mountain, into Esopus Creek. From there, it drifts into the Ashokan Reservoir, which is very large, (about 30 miles around it, I believe.) As the water leaves the Ashokan Dam, it is forced through an aeration system, which consists of a very large oval-shaped pool, with thousands of pipes sticking up in the pool, which shoots the water up in the air to aerate it. The water leaves this pool through a pipe large enough to drive an auto in, and follows the pipe down the west shore of the Hudson River as far as Stormking Mountain, where it flows under the Hudson River to the East shore. There it joins the Kensico Reservoir system then flows down to join the Croton Reservoir and upon leaving there flows to New York City, where it goes nearly 48 stories underground and is then piped into the different buildings.

At the time New York was considering enlarging its inadequate supply they sent some engineers up to test the water in the Hudson River off the shore of Poughkeepsie. Traces of salt from the ocean are found in the river as far north as New Hamburg, the next small town south of Poughkeepsie. When the engineers tested the water in the middle of the river off the north end of the city of Poughkeepsie, they found clear springs in the river bottom. So when New York turned down this source of supply and decided to build the Ashokan Dam, they tipped off the city of Poughkeepsie on their findings. This city jumped at the chance and after running a pipe line out to the middle of the river, constructed a pumping station. The water after being pumped ashore is put through a series of sedimentation basins. From there it is given slow filtration through sand, then rapid filtration and then after being treated lightly with a few chemicals, is pumped to one of two reservoirs at the top of College Hill Park. From there it is pumped throughout the city.

Taking all things into consideration and adding up the cost of drilling wells, purification of the water, softening of it, pumping it to your home, and keeping the supply in working order, the cost of the water is not too surprising.ing.

One more thing which we should take into consideration, and that is the fact that we seem to have a bountiful supply of water, and do not have to be rationed on sprinkling our lawns and garden plants, as so many communities are. We should consider ourselves fortunate.

Faulty Memory Trips Check Artist

PRYOR, Okla. (AP)—A fast-talking hot check artist had a long idea—but a short memory—and landed in jail.

Under the alias of Ralph Bates, he deposited $5 in a bank, then neatly changed the bank book figure to $5,000. With that in his pocket he bought a car and wrote out a $950 check.

Whoops! He signed the check Robert Gates!

The used car lot owner noticed the error a short time later. A suspect was picked up snoozing in the car at Miami, Okla.

Bricker Votes On Losing Side

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) voted against the Eisenhower administration's 4½ billion dollar foreign aid bill as the Senate passed the measure today, 69-10.

Bricker was on the losing side yesterday on three other important Senate measures but was the winner in another field as his colleagues elected him chairman of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

He succeeds the late Sen. Tobey (R-NH) in the chairmanship.

Bricker voted against admitting 209,000 refugees to the United States. He voted for cutting 548 million dollars from foreign aid and for suspending rules to consider the amendment offered by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to punish nations receiving American aid who trade with Red China.

Many Exhibits Expected

Crawford County Fair Will Open Next Week

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS —Crawford County's 1953 fair will open at the fairgrounds here next Tuesday, Aug. 4, and continue through Saturday night, Aug. 8, with a record number of exhibits expected to be on the grounds.

The exposition will feature three afternoons of harness horse racing, nightly grandstand attractions and other special events.

First scheduled event is a tractor pulling contest at 1 p.m. Tuesday on the race track infield after which there will be a special children's program in front of the grandstand with all children being admitted free to the grounds and grandstand.

Night Attractions

Nightly attractions will be started off Tuesday with a golden wedding festival, honoring Crawford County residents, who have been married 50 years.

On Wednesday night Sally Flowers and Billy Scott, Columbus television personalities, will headline a variety show; Thursday night, there will be Lueder's Attractions 1953 Grandstand Varieties; Friday night, the WLW Midwestern Hayride; and Saturday night, Chitwood Daredevils, an auto thrill show, which also will be the grandstand feature, Saturday afternoon.

The three-day racing program, which has purses totaling $7,350, gets underway Wednesday afternoon with four events, a 2-year-old pace, 3-year-old trot, 25 pace and 25 trot. On Thursday afternoon, there will be a 2-year-old trot, 3-year-old pace, 20 pace and 20 trot, and Friday afternoon's card includes a 22 pace, 22 trot, free for all pace and classified trot. Purse in each event is $600 with the exception of the free-for-all pace, which has a $750 purse.

A silver trophy will be given to each race winner and the card features a starting gate, parimutuels betting and photo finish facilities, James S. Michael of Bucyrus, speed secretary, pointed out.

New Feature

A new feature, sponsored in conjunction with observance of Ohio's sesquicentennial, will be an exhibit of products manufactured by industries throughout the county. This exposition will be housed in three large tents near the grandstand and more than 50 companies are expected to exhibit their products with the county commissioners providing the tent space.

Special livestock shows include the Sandusky Valley Holstein Club show, with judging scheduled for Aug. 5, and the North Central Ohio District Red Poll Show, sponored by the Red Poll Cattle Cattle Club. Roy Truster of Collinsville, O., will judge the animals on Aug. 5.

Nightly band concerts also are scheduled preceding the grandstand attraction, James Gebhardt, fair board secretary, announced today.

Prescription For Testifying Doctors

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—A panel of legal and medical experts advocated the following "operating" technique for doctors called into court to testify as medical witnesses:

1—Don't anesthetize the jury with medical terms; use language they'll understand.

2—Prepare adequate records so that answers may be available readily under questioning.

3—Hold a pre-trial conference with a lawyer to determine the course of questioning.

4—Testify without overemphasis or partisanship.

5—Don't volunteer information.

The panelists included the president of the Erie County Bar Association, the chairman of the Bar Association's committee on cooperation with other professions, a supreme court justice, and a county medical examiner.

THEY LIKE THIS RETREAT. United States Marines clamber aboard a truck on the Western front in Korea to move to new positions from the demilitarization zone under terms of the Korean armistice. They are retreating, but this time with grins.

Lesson in Writing

By FRANK TRIPP

The epistle two weeks ago about old-timers who "took pen in hand" roused a lusty guffaw from the brave compositor who has to tussle with this copy. "Why didn't you tell 'em the whole truth" he asked me, smiling slyly.

He meant that the column did not tell that I haven't uncovered a typewriter for a year, yet go right on boring the populace with a dollar pen or a stub pencil; which is plenty fast enough, considering the product that results.

As a matter of fact, it isn't slow at all, nor laborious, save to those who must edit the hen tracks and put them into type. I've found it easier and far more convenient than the most scientifically designed typewriter desk and chair ever devised.

You can lie flat on your back, or roll over on your stomach, in bed, or on a grassy plot overlooking the lake. You can get the job done between drinks, in hotel rooms, between trains or planes, or on them, without lugging along a portable. All you need is in your pocket—and your head. Although too often it all seemed to have been in the pocket.

THE PEN ITSELF is an eminent editor. He who uses it suffers no temptation to keep his fingers hopping over the keys, grinding out useless words, while the next essential thought crystalizes in his mind.

I've recommended the idea to young writers, but doubt if one accepted the advice. Certainly no editor or copy reader would settle for the notion, which to them is just another screwy idiosyncrasy out of the past.

Still, even when I began, the typewriter seemed so essential that reporters either bought their own or paid half in cash, while the office paid the other half in advertising space. Then we quarreled about who owned the typewriter, and when we switched jobs had to sneak it out during the night.

ONE OF THE best writers I know says he can't turn a wheel unless coatless in front of a typewriter in the din of a newsroom, where a half dozen reporters are doing as many different stories over a half dozen telephones, each oblivious of the confusion or the presence of the others.

That's something newsmen must learn early. Not only to think and write amid confusion that would distract the uninitiated but to think straight amid the confusion that surrounds the assembling of big stories.

You'd think that once pastured to the peaceful chore of columning they'd be glad to be rid of it. But they aren't. Few revert to the dignity of the quill. They go to the end punching out two-finger yarns on a rattling old crate that they've come to love.

JUST THE SAME, if you putter with writing, try this stunt: Let's assume that you need to do a story in about 600 words. This column contains nearly 600. That's two double-spaced, 8½ x 11 typewritten pages, or about four school tablet sheets handwritten.

First do the story on a typewriter, two pages worth. Put it aside. A week later write the same story by hand. Omit no essential fact or feature; write it all and stop, no matter how few the words. Don't copy the typewritten story, or refer to it.

If you're average, you'll tell the story in fewer words with a pen; with shorter sentences, fewer conjunctions, superlatives and adjectives. Which trial reads smoother, pen or typewriter, will tell where your forte lies, if anywhere.

The pen has rescued many a writer from verbosity, involved sentences, rambling context, overemphasis and typewriter marathon. Don't fear the slower tool. Often it's faster than one's worthwhile thoughts.

Have something to write; write it, and stop. Which I'm doing right now. And might well have done 500 words back, you're thinking.

Moving Rubber Walks Used in Chicago

CHICAGO (UP)—The first moving rubber sidewalk is in operation in the Museum of Science and Industry here.

John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich Co., said the rubber sidewalk could be a solution to the problem of transporting a large number of people at a continuous rate through congested areas.

The 68-foot-long sidewalk can transport people at a rate of 5,000 an hour, Collyer said.

"Although this first moving sidewalk will be used only to transport people through a part of the Museum's rubber exhibit," Collyer said, "this mode of travel is a practical means of transporting rapidly and efficiently vast numbers of people in crowded areas."

Spain Provides "Talking Post" Tourist Aid

MADRID, (INS) — Tourists to Spain are going to have a new "friend" in the "polyglot talking posts" being set up in major cities throughout the nation.

For one peseta (about two and one half cents) dropped into the posts which are to be conveniently located in important parts of the city, you may ask any question you wish. At the beginning tourists will be able to talk to the box in English, French, German and Spanish. Later other languages are to be added.

An example of how these talking boxes would function is: an American finds himself in Madrid's Cibeles Place after depositing several letters in the Central Post Office there. He goes to the talking box and under the English section drops his coin in. A polite voice answers "Yes sir?" and the delighted (it is hoped) tourist who has found all too few people who can understand English, asks how to get to the Prado Museum or the Oriente Palace or the American Embassy.

The box will not light up a map showing him where it is, but it will tell what bus, street car, trackless trolley or subway to take and what hours and days it is open.

You can also ask the information post what movies are playing in what theater, the classification of them, where there are available hotel rooms and their prices, what folklore spectacles may be seen, what plays are on, what time it is and a hundred other questions.

In addition, it is planned that this service can be used by home telephone —calling a certain number and this would not necessitate going out into the street to find a box.

The value of this service will be incalcuable for a visitor (foreigner or Spaniard) arriving let's say late at night without knowing the city. Although the number of people speaking foreign languages in Spain is increasing it is considerablly lower than the number in Paris for example.

A Frenchman finds himself in the maze of the Puerta del Sol in the Spanish capital and has no idea what to do. He goes to an information box and asks where there is a hotel (of the category he wishes) with rooms and how to get there. He might also ask the location of a restaurant if he wants to eat first.

Confused by the lights and signals he may also ask traffic directions. This is expected to make him feel more "at home" and not helplessy lost as sometimes is the case upon arrival.

With the ever-increasing tourist trade expected to keep on growing, these "polyglot talking posts" will indeeed be a "freind in need" for visitors to Spain.

Streamliner Jumps Track, 17 Are Injured

GUYMON, Okla. (AP)—A California bound Rock Island Railroad streamliner, the Imperial, rocking along at a 65-mile-an-hour clip, jumped the tracks 17 miles north of here Wednesday, injuring 17 passengers.

Officials at a Guymon hospital said none was seriously hurt.

Action on Drought Relief Completed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional action was completed Wednesday on a bill appropriating 150 million dollars for emergency relief in drought-stricken states. House acceptance of minor Senate amendments to a bill previously passed by the House sent the measure to President Eisenhower.

Nearly 2,000 Lose Lives in Ohio Accidents

Almost 50 per cent of traffic deaths in Ohio happened on rural state highways in 1952 according to the booklet "Ohio Traffic Accident Facts" which has just been released by the Ohio Department of Highways, Division of Traffic and Safety.

There were 972 deaths on the rural highways last year, 384 in cities with more than 50,000 population, 138 in cities with a population of 10,000 to 49,900, 179 in cities under 10,000 population and 299 deaths in other rural roads including county and township roads. The number of persons who lost their lives in Ohio traffic accidents last year was 1,972.

Ten Ohio counties recorded 40 or more traffic deaths. Cuyahoga was first in this department having had 163 deaths. All of these deaths were in municipalities since there are only five miles of rural road in that county.

Marion County had a total of 15 deaths by traffic accident in 1952. Of these, 11 were on rural roads. This county also had a total of 506 accidents on its rural state highways, which injured 167 persons.

Cities with populations of less than 2,500 had the highest death rate per 100,000 last year. While only 93 persons were killed in such towns as compared to the 384 killed in cities with over 50,000 population, the death rate was 17.5 for the small towns as opposed to 11.7 persons per 100,000 killed in big cities.

There were a total of 27,482 traffic accidents reported on state highways outside municipalities. This was an all time high and was three per cent over the total reached in 1951. The total estimated property loss due to accidents was placed at $180 million.

Fifty-five per cent of the drivers involved in accidents reported they were residents of the county in which the accident happened. Only 16 per cent of drivers in accidents were from outside Ohio.

Pace Soon To Relax

Steel Production Fast Getting Back to Normal

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel mills will continue for about three months more to operate at the present break-neck rate. But after that the industry should return to more normal conditions.

By "normal" steelmasters mean a slight slackening in demand, now looked for before the end of the year, would permit them to close down ancient furnaces with over-high operating costs and to cool off other furnaces for the usual periods of maintenance and repair which have been passed over during the years of extra high demand for steel.

Orders for steel already on the books will keep most companies operating near capacity for some time. But several important leaders of the industry think that the peak of demand has now been reached and that new orders will soon be coming in at a slightly lower rate.

The Korean truce, they say, will be less responsible for this slackening than will the fact that users of steel for the making of civilian products appear to be near the end of their inventory-building programs.

During the steel strike last summer many of these steel consumers scraped the bottom of the steel barrel. Since then they have been ordering more steel than they were actually consuming in order to rebuild their depleted steel inventories.

Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of the United States Steel Corp., calls this inventory building "a substantial segment of the strength in steel demand in the past year" and believes that consumer inventories "are now approaching balance."

Some steel users are going to profit cost-wise as the steel industry gets back to normal. This is because some of them — like the auto makers — have been paying above-list prices for steel. They have been buying steel where they could find it and having mills convert it to their particular specifications — paying the high conversion rate so they could get the steel they needed for record auto output.

The Iron Age, steel trade weekly, reports today that Chrysler is cancelling some of its expensive coversion contracts and expects to get all the steel it needs after September through its regular mill sources at list price. The weekly says that Ford and General Motors expect to wind up their buying of premium priced steel in October or November.

Only a moderate decline, if any, in steel demand before the end of the year is expected by the weekly.

The Office of Defense Mobilization is letting go of many of its controls over steel quotas for defense production in the fourth quarter, expecting many contractors to be able to place orders freely in the market without need of priorities.

Demand at the moment is still very good, however. The American Iron and Steel Institute says the industry will turn out 2,180,000 tons of ingots and steel for castings this week, even better than last week.

Speed Pace To Meet Target Date

Congress Striving for Adjournment by Week End

WASHINGTON (AP)—A quickened pace on major money bills brightened hopes today that Congress would meet its target date and adjourn for the year by this weekend, although perhaps not by tomorrow night.

Some knotty legislative problems remained, and they could cause trouble. So, too, could a White House request—reported to be under serious consideration—for a hike in the federal debt ceiling, now at 275 billion dollars.

Senate Democrats appeared to be lining up solidly against such a move and, while House leaders voiced confidence such a bill would pass there, even administration backers said action might delay adjournment until next week.

Early today, at the end of a 15½-hour session, the Senate voted 69-10 approval of a $6,745,318,202 foreign aid budget. That sent it to conference with the House, which had voted about half a billion dollars less.

All 13 of the regular government money bills have passed the House and all but one of them have passed the Senate. Ten have gone to President Eisenhower for signature. Two, counting foreign aid, are in Senate-House conference committees.

Pending when the Senate started work today was the remaining one: a $649,725,000 catch-all measure which carries funds for the overseas information program and for civil defense, among other things.

Two money bills, both Senate-House compromises, were cleared to the President's desk yesterday. They provide $34,371,541,000 for the defense establishment and $96,187,351 for Congress itself and the federal judiciary.

At this stage, it appeared Congress would wind up by slicing about $12,770,000,000 off former President Truman's budget requests and about $3,150,000,000 off Eisenhower's revised budget.

But this was cold comfort in view of the bleak fiscal picture for the year which started July 1, although the cuts in appropriations may help to balance the budget in future years.

Much of the spending this year will be out of past appropriations. Thus it is not affected by the amounts Congress voted this year.

Aside from the money bills, at least five legislative proposals on the administration's "must" list remain to be acted upon finally, and several of them could cause trouble.

Republican leaders, after a conference with Eisenhower July 20, listed nine bills in addition to appropriations on which they said they wanted action before Congress quit. The bills and their status:

1. Reciprocal trade. Both Senate and House have passed a bill to extend the trade act for a year beyond last June 12, but it has been stalemated in a Senate-House conference.

Ohio Farmers Getting Set for Plowing in Fall

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many Ohio farmers are preparing for fall plowing, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today in its weekly crop report.

It said some farmers are baling straw and a few have begun plowing fields for fall seeding.

Warm and wet weather during the week ended July 24 aided crop growth considerably but delayed grain harvesting, said the weather bureau, adding:

"Wheat harvesting is finished in several Western Ohio areas. Oats combining is well under way throughout the state except in a few northeast sections. Some western county farmers already have finished their oat harvesting.

"Commercial tomatoes are ripening in the western and northern areas. Soybeans, sugar beets and commercial lima beans all are progressing rapidly. Corn is well tasseled over most of Ohio and is growing well, indicating a good crop in most counties.

"Tobacco fields appear in good shape. Second alfalfa cutting continues in scattered areas. Truck farms and gardens have been helped considerably by the heavy rains. Fruit is developing well. Milk production remains fair and eggs are becoming more scarce."

One of Canada's most exclusive clubs is the Kainai Chieftainship restricted to 35 members, all honorary chiefs of the Blood Indians of Southwestern Alberta.

2. Continental shelf. This is a bill providing for federal administration of submerged oil lands beyond historic state boundaries. It had been tied up in conference.

3. Immigration. The Senate okayed yesterday a bill to permit 209,000 refugees and other aliens to enter this country in the next three years. That put it up to the House, which passed a similar bill a day earlier, to accept the Senate version or send the measure to conference.

4. Postal rate hike. This administration request was shelved this week by the House Postoffice Committee.

5. Small business. A bill to set up a new Small Business Administration to make loans, and to provide for liquidation of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. was sent to the White House yesterday.

6. Extension of farm credit legislation. No major difficulties to Senate-House conference agreement were apparent.

7. Military public works. House approval yesterday sent to the White House a bill authorizing $491,595,930 worth of construction by the Army, Navy and Air Force.

8. Treaties. A series of commerce and navigation agreements with other nations was ratified last week by the Senate.

9. Famine relief. House approval yesterday sent to conference with the Senate a restricted version of President Eisenhower's request for authority to send surplus government-held commodities abroad to alleviate famine or other emergency. Senate-House differences are not major.

Call It Independence

When the government headed by Premier de Gasperi fell this week, Italians failed to show excitement. The fall was of interest only to politicians engrossed in their endless contest of power.

There wasn't much excitement in the United States, either, despite the threadbare claim that de Gasperi is all that stands between independence and Communist enslavement in Italy. Americans have invested a great deal of money and a still greater amount of worry in that proposition.

But gradually it is becoming clear to even our most tireless interventionists that independence means being independent of domination from all sources.

The Italians are being independent. They may suffer for it, as Great Britain once warned the American colonists they would suffer, but they are claiming the right to make their own mistakes. So are the French. So, to the horror and disgust of Anglophiles, are the perfidious British, who have the temerity to disagree with Americans about a great many things these days. Even Syngman Rhee of Korea dares to disagree.

The cause of independence is beginning to develop momentum. That was the aim, as we recall it, of the whole foreign-aid program—to make foreign countries independent. The program has hit a net total of $37.6 billion so far, not counting the latest appropriations.

Dairyman's Dilemma

When spokesmen for dairymen admitted the other day they had been doing a poor job of selling, they made a giant stride. But their dilemma will stick with them.

Mainly, it is how to get rid of the total supply of a perishable product produced in varying amounts twice a day, 365 days a year. Dairymen cannot regulate production from day to day like automobile manufacturers. They cannot pile up inventories like producers of iron, coal and wood.

They don't like government subsidies and the abuses that go with the subsidies. They don't like to be dependent on political decisions for their livelihood. They would rather create such a lively demand for fluid milk, ice cream and other diary products they could stand on their own feet.

Therefore, they are going to try to stand on their own feet. They are going to see if they can whoop up more demand for what they have to sell and thereby cut down on the necessity for government assistance in dealing with the dilemma of what to do with excess milk which accrues from having enough dairy cattle in the United States to take care of the demand.

If every other manufacturing group could be counted on to show the same self-reliance in the months ahead, there would be less apprehension about what is going to happen to their surpluses.

It's Your Money

The three-day shell game with local, state and federal spending gets pretty confusing sometimes. That's how the public spenders want it to be.

But a taxpayer occasionally gets a glimmer of understanding through the fog of figures with which he is surrounded by the spenders and their companions in the great American game of making the dollars fly—the taxers.

A glimmer of the moment is the emerging fact that the fight against federal spending and taxing is not really a fight against spending and taxing but only a conviction that they have been overdone by one of the three coordinate divisions of government. The shell game has been lopsided in favor of Washington.

Federal spending has been multiplied by 8 plus since 1940—from about $9 billion to more than $74 billion.

Federal taxing has been multiplied by 13—from about $5 to about $65 billion. In spite of this, the federal government has gone into debt by more than $218 billion during the same period.

State spending on the other hand, has gone from $3.5 to $11.5 billion. State taxing has gone from $3.3 billion to $10.3 billions.

Local spending has gone from $5 billion to $11.3 billion, while local taxing has gone from $4.5 billion to $10 billion.

State and local spenders have been held down by the inability of state and local taxers to raise the money and the inability of state and local governments to go endlessly into debt. Unlike the federal government, they don't owe the debt to themselves," as Franklin Roosevelt once explained was true of the federal government. They owe it to banks, bondholders and others who expect to be repaid in full.

That makes the difference. Taxpayers never will beat the manipulators of the public-spending shell game until they can keep as close track of federal spending and taxing as they keep of state and local spenders and taxers.

The federal government would not be spending money, collecting taxes and going into debt at anything close to present rates if it had to get the consent of taxpayers and the guardians of the country's fiscal values.

New Style Diplomacy

By David Lawrence

Resiliency Complex Relegates Principle

After the truce — what?

The answer is already being given, for the news is filled with double-talk from some U.N. officials here and abroad — the start of a welching on promises and a surrender of principles as the sacrifices of the brave are quickly forgotten.

In Washington, in London, in Paris — they are already talking "compromise," and ultimate admission of Red China into the Security Council of the U.N.

The aggressor of yesterday is to be the bosom friend of tomorrow, even though 5,000 Americans who were taken prisoners by the Reds were instantly murdered, or tortured to death.

A majority of U.N. member nations are reported ready to isolate the U.S. government which officially still opposes Red China. A surprising number of people in this country, however, seem to feel that it is time "to accommodate" Red China.

Certain manifestations of the present day make this writer wonder if the America he knew and read about in school is passing and if the things that used to evoke American pride and patriotism are now smothered, if not suppressed, in an atmosphere that seeks to make what is unmoral appear moral.

Diplomacy, for example, is viewed as a convenient device to make palatable what is plainly wrong in principle.

To illustrate: a leading newspaper which has been advocating a warm attitude toward the government of Red China gives its advice editorially on the forthcoming "political conference." It says:

"For resiliency — the ability to adjust quickly to new situations—is a primary qualification of adept diplomacy. In this case an indication, now that we do not intend merely to stand pat on the China question, might do a lot to avoid later difficulty with our allies."

Then one turns to another page and reads there an article written by a veteran American commentator on international affairs who is highly regarded in Britain and Europe generally. He writes:

"A round table conference could discuss new constructive plans for Korea in which Mr. Dulles' promises would be transcended and the United States, to put it bluntly, gotten off the hook. . . .

"It would be impossible for Mr. Dulles to honor all the promises, for they are often hopelessly contradictory and some are positively weird. . . ."

There follows a reference to some of the promises made to President Rhee of the Republic of Korea in particular, which it appears now we didn't mean to keep at all.

Secretary Dulles evidently will have a hard time explaining all this to Syngman Rhee in the personal conferences of the coming weeks.

Next one finds press dispatches from the Communist side.

Having heard in the last few days some radio speeches by American officials about how the truce in Korea is a "victory for collective security," it is disconcerting to read now that Malenkov and Molotov are claiming a big "victory" in Korea.

One disposes of these, however, as mere "propaganda" — and that's that.

But what meets the eye next? On Page 16 — far away from the other pieces of news and comment—is another item. It has a single column headline: "Aid Increase to Indo-China Feared."

This dispatch from Indo - China tells us that French officials "expressed deep concern over the possibility that the Chinese now would turn southward to boost the quantity of war materials they have been sending to the Communist - led Viet-Minh."

The same dispatch also says that the United States ambassador in Indo - China, Donald Heath, said that the Korean truce "certainly makes easier" for Red China to send in more assistance to the forces led by Moscow-trained No Chi-minh.

What has become of the solemn warnings issued by our government and the governments of Great Britain and France that a truce in Korea must not mean a build-up of the aggressor in Indo-China?

Maybe this is one of the statements that now must be overcome with some sort of "resiliency" that will get the statesmen on our side "off the hook."

Logically, if present - day pacifism and peace - at - any - price policies are a true reflection of American opinion, then it is to presume that the draft law will be revealed and serious consideration given to the prompt withdrawal of American forces from Europe as well as Asia.

It will be asked, why use military threats or armament language at all — why not leave it all to the "resiliency" of the new-fashioned diplomacy?

Advice to Job-Seekers

By TRUMAN TWILL

A young friend of mine, newly home from his share in an unpleasant job the United States helped to do in Korea, is hunting for a job.

He doesn't know what he wants to do, because he took on that dirty work in Korea right after he finished his college education. Some of us have been giving him advice.

We have been telling him he should be sure to find something he will like to do year in and year out for the rest of his life—something that won't bore him to limpness after a few years.

We have been telling him he must realize there are some jobs which pay more money than other jobs but that money isn't the only thing to think about; that he also should think about a sense of satisfaction etc.

We have been telling him that materialists to the contrary notwithstanding, the United States still has not gone soddenly materialistic and therefore he should remember that ministers who share their poverty with the church mice are just as important as some of their wealthy parishioners who think they can buy their way into Heaven.

We've been telling him it is not just enough to decide which general line of interest he prefers but that he should be sure to take a long, hard look at the personalities he will be dealing with, because in the long run he will need to respect and admire his associates.

We've told him to forget blacksmithing and related trades in which there is no visible future and to choose something which should stay prosperous for another half century, like nostrum-manufacturing.

We've told him why employers are persnickety about fly-by-nights because of the red tape that goes with signing on new employes. We've told him to start at the bottom with a smile so he at least can get rid of the handicap of having had no experience, which is the heaviest there is, next to having too much experience.

We've told him that even when people go looking for jobs and word gets around that things are tightening up, employers are still looking for the right kind of people, because the right people are always hard to find.

We've told the poor fellow so many things—all of his friends together—that he must be convinced by this time it's a miracle anyone ever manages to be happy and successful though working.

All this, of course, has been unintentional. But when a young man asks his seniors for advice, they feel compelled to prove to him he is in the presence of old campaigners who bear on their bodies the honorable spear - wounds of many encounters with adversity and whose minds are full of wisdom.

They never tell him that in all candor that he will encounter nothing much grimmer than the tax deductions from his pay check; that industrialism is as nearly foolproof as the world's best managers and most active social consciences can make it; that he can start at any given point on the ladder and climb as high as a pair of stout legs and a stout heart can carry him. If he feels like climbing.

My young friend may have figured this out for himself, but if he hasn't, it's true. Just follow your nose, boy, and it will take you where you want to go.

Fringe Benefits Outdistancing Wages

By Raymond Moley

One government publication which is well worth what it costs the purchaser and the taxpayer is the July issue of the "Survey of Current Business" of the Department of Commerce.

In that issue the Department gives full statistics on a large number of interesting and important aspects of our national economic life for the preceding year. It has just been made available to the public.

Nowhere is the fact so clearly shown that the status of the wage earner has sensationally improved over the past few years and that to a greater and greater degree his real income is far above the amount of his wages.

The so-called "fringe benefits" are increasing at a relatively more rapid rate than almost any other statistic in our economic life.

Indeed, the fringe ultimately may be a major part of the cloth.

In 1952 the supplemental compensation of "persons employed by others" amounted to $9,585 billion. This covers payments by the employer for Social Security, unemployment compensation payments, insurance, company pensions and other direct benefits for the worker.

Those of us who are self-employed should note carefully that these items are mainly the things which we must provide for ourselves out of our own earnings. We should note that by comparison with the above figure the total of all dividends in 1952 was $9,107 billion.

Usually, when the amount of wages paid in this country, is given either in sum total or in average per person, this supplemental pay is not included.

Another sum which also benefits the worker is the amount paid out by federal, state and local governments for pensions, assistance, unemployment pay and direct relief. This, in 1952 according to the Department of Commerce survey, was $12,861 billion.

There is, of course, some duplication between this figure and the one given above for paymens by employers. But a substantial amount is paid by taxpayers who are not also wage earners.

That this huge sum is likely to grow with the years is strongly indicated by some other facts published last week in the Congressional Record.

Carl Curtis of Nebraska is chairman of a subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee which was appointed to investigate our Social Security laws.

The magnitude of the task of this subcommittee, as well as the capacity of congressmen to seek greater benefits for their people, is shown by a compilation made by the Curtis subcommittee of all the bills introduced in six short months by members of the House for the amendment of old age assistance and survivors insurance legislation. There are 170 of them. Some members introduced seven or eight.

Fortunately, this torrent will not descend upon the taxpayer all at once. In fact, few if any will pass. But this is an omen of things to come.

It is also a fine demonstration of the fact that an election is coming next year.

Streamlined Education

By Harrison W. Fry

Four educational institutions in the Philadelphia area are part of a pilot project that is developing a new type of school.

The school that is emerging is a closely coordinated combination of high school and university that envisions of graduation of its students in seven years, instead of eight as at present.

It's taking too long to train leaders today.

Industry wants them and the armed forces want them.

And so education has this pilot project that proposes to pare one year off the preparation of top students.

The project is under the Fund for the Advancement of Education, established by the Ford Foundation which in the two years since its establishment has made grants of more than $300 million to studies, experiments and on-going programs in education.

Former supreme court justice Owen J. Roberts is chairman of the board of directors. Dr. William H. Cornog, president of Philadelphia's Central High, on leave of absence, is the director of the projects.

In a progress report just published, the Fund points out that it launched its present three studies in an effort to find an answer to two closely related defects in the American educational system which undermine quality and impose severe waste; the poor articulation between high schools and colleges and the lack of sufficient flexibility in our educational system to accommodate the wide differences of ability, interests and maturity among young people.

The first project, in which Lawrenceville School and Princeton University are part of the group of six schools in the study, seeks to determine how to bring the studies on secondary schools and higher schools into greater harmony.

The preliminary report finds a waste of time and effort in many students doing the same thing twice, in dropping a subject before it has done much good and a failure to communicate to students the meaning, purpose and value of a liberal education.

It was from the part of the study that the coordination idea came and the committee recommends a seven-year program for qualified students as an alternative to the usual four of secondary school and four years of university.

The second project is studying not only closer articulation between the college and high school, but the possibility of a speedup in the present setup.

A third project is studying whether what is known as general education cannot be completed in a shorter time than at present. Swarthmore College is a part of this project.

The fourth project is studying the merit of admitting mature young men into college before they complete high school, enabling them to complete two years of college before they are called by the draft. Lafayette College has recently been admitted to this study.

The evidence thus far collected shows that the experimental students, as a group, considerably outdistanced the rest of the freshman class.

In extracurricular affairs, athletics as well as social, they are as active and in some cases more active than other students.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA B. DUTTON

For many years prior to 1904 the hospital facilities in Marion County had not been adequate for the needs of such an important industrial and railroad center as Marion. With a view of providing a suitable service the Marion City and County Hospital was organized by professional and business men of the city. A building known as, the Majestic Hotel, now the Snyder Hotel, was fitted up and opened to the public July 4, 1904. Unfortuantely professional dissension made it difficult to finance and it was necessary to close it at the beginning of 1906.

Hippos Menace Planes

LERE (Chad) French Africa (AP)—Hippopotami have developed into a major flying hazard in the Chad and ways and means are now being sought to put an end to it. The Hippopotami live in the lake of Lere a vast shallow expanse of water used by the "France-Hydro" air-company for flying boats, which fly cotton to the coast, machines and drinks to the Chad. In the beginning, the pilots made some low altitude swoops to chase the hippopotami away, but the latter quickly learned that the flying boats were perfectly harmless and today they don't budge. It has been decided to take the beasts elsewhere. But how several hundred hippopotami can be captured and transferred, is not yet known.

The Once Over

The Rebel

Meet Potiphar Potts, New York's newest rebel! Mr. Potts is conducting a one-man boycott of the New York subway system, a lone-ranger battle against the 15-cent fare and an all-out war on tokens.

"I am withdrawing my patronage of the subway," Potiphar anncunced firmly. "I am giving it no more of my business."

This was pretty shocking. "Have you notified the subway people?" we asked.

"I sent a letter to Casey Stengel," said Potiphar.

"You have the wrong Casey," we explained. "Casey Stengel is the baseball man. New York subway matters come under the head of football. The subway Casey is Hugh Casey."

"Why wasn't I told" said Mr. Potts.

"Do you think your crusade will get anywhere?" we asked.

"Not by SUBWAY, of course," admitted Potts.

"But will it get anywhere by way of a protest?" we asked.

"I shall make a vigorous fight," he replied.

"But the subway won't miss one lone customer, will it?"

"It will miss me." said Potiphar. "I am the customer who always got on a train with a piece of lead pipe, a Samurai sword and a paving rock."

"Why such things in a subway?"

"It's the only sure way to get in or out," snapped Potts.

We pressed him as to how he intended to make his fight effective. "For one thing I shall picket kiosks," he said.

"I have my banners ready. They read: 'Don't Take a Pokin for a Token!'. . . ' Subway Trip Should be A Ride not an Economic Exploit.' . . . 'Fifteen Cents is Too Much to Pay for any scrimmage' and 'Don't Be A Token Slave!' "

"Any others"

"Yes. I shall use the obvious one: "This Subway Unfair to Battered People,' " admitted Potiphar Potts.

"And I have had suggestions such as 'fifteen Cents Is Fifteen Cents to Me No Matter What It Is to Tom Dewey' and 'Bring Back the Fallen Arches at the Old Price!' "

"Don't forget that the New York subway gives you the longest ride on earth for the money," we cautioned.

"Stop talking like a lobbyist for the token manufacturers," Potiphar snapped. "It ain't the length of the ride, it's the length of the subsequent medical treatment."

From the depths of the subway came the quaint cries of, "Letemoff! Letemoff! Move up forward!"

"Revolt!" cried Potiphar Potts, newest of the big-city rebels. "Revolt! To the barricades! Give me a ten-cent fare or give me death, but don't try to give me that token routine! Are you men or mice?"

"You had better repeat that last question," we suggested.

"Are you men or MICE?" he called again into the depths of the subway.

"Mice," came a frank reply. "Ya wanna make anything of it?"

Potiphar Potts was not downcast. "I shall carry on," he said.

Kenton NYC Ticket Agent To Retire After 48 Years

Special to The Star

KENTON — Two men who were born only nine miles apart and have long service on the Big Four Division of the New York Central Railroad on Aug. 1, will figure in a change of New York Central agent in Kenton.

W. H. Dickinson retires on Saturday after 48 years and seven months with the railroad of which he has been agent here for the last 16 years. He will be succeeded by Josep M. Callahan, who has some 46 years with the railroad and who has been Big Four ticket agent in Kenton since he returned from the service following World War I in 1919.

Dickinson was born in Harper in Logan County, and Callahan in Ridgeway, Hardin County, only nine miles apart.

Each started his railroad career with the Cleveland Division of the Big Four Railroad—Dickinson in 1904 in Longville tower near Marion, and Callahan in 1907 at Ridgeway. Both men have devoted their lives to service of various railroads, mostly with the Big Four Division of the New York Central.

Dickinson, in his early railroad years, spent a brief time with the Pennsylvania Railroad at Conover in Miami County. On Jan. 7, 1905, he assumed his first job with the Big Four at Lilly Chapel, in Madison Co. He was agent at Galloway in Franklin Co. for 21 years, then he went to Urbana in 1930, where he was agent seven years before coming to Kenton as agent in 1937. He has served here since, some 16 years.

He served as president of the Kenton Chamber of Commerce for five years. He is a member of all Masonic bodies, chapter, council and commandry. He affiliated with the Blue Lodge in West Jefferson, O., the Scottish Rite in Columbus, Aladdin Shrine Temple in Columbus, and the Lima Shrine Club. He is a member of First Methodist Church here as well as the Kenton Elks Lodge.

He said he is retiring because of other business interests and also plans, with Mrs. Dickinson, to do some extensive traveling.

Callahan started his railroad career as an extra on the Cleveland Division, serving at various points between Bellefontaine and Cleveland including Ridgeway, Rushsylvania, Shelby and Lindale. In 1907, he transferred to the Cincinnati-Sandusky Division of the Big Four and served at Kenton, Hill Siding and Grants. He went to the U. S. Army in 1918 and upon his return, in 1919 accepted the post of Kenton ticket agent which he had held since. He is a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Miss Jolyn Smith Becomes Bride of John R. Herriott

Palms, a large basket of white gladioli and lighted candles in two seven branch candelabra decorated the altar of First Presbyterian Church Sunday, July 26, for the wedding of Miss Jolyn Denise Smith, daughter of Mrs. Juanita Smith, 760 Bellefontaine Ave., and John Richard Herriott. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Herriott, Ostrander, O. Huckleberry foliage combined with blue ribbon marked the family pews.

Preceding the double ring ceremony, read at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon by the pastor, the Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, a program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Pattie Holiday, organist and Miss Barbara Neusom, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her maternal grandfather, Frank Lewis, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over ice blue taffeta. The bodice of lace was buttoned to the waist in back with self-covered buttons, and the long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The waltz-length skirt, worn over a hoop, was of blue taffeta beneath white nylon net. Her fingertip-length veil of bridal illusion was held by a Juliet cap of lace with rhinestone insets. She wore a single strand of pearls and matching earrings, gifts of the bridegroom, and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis. She also carried a white lace handkerchief with rhinestone insets, a gift of Mrs. Hazel McWilliams.

Man Without Nation Comes Ashore at Last

HONG KONG (AP) — Michael Patrick O'Brien finally made it ashore.

After 10 months and 12 days, the 57-year-old man without a country today left the 6-foot brig of the Portuguese Macao-Hong Kong ferry Lee Hong. He'd traveled at least 12,500 miles—the equivalent of a trip halfway round the world—sailing between the two ports.

But the ex-bartender and marine engineer wasn't going anywhere, yet. Police took him in custody and refused to reveal their plans for him.

His friends said they were trying to get him cleared for an unnamed South American country where his Russian wife and child are reported to have gone from Shanghai.

O'Brien boarded the Lee Hong in Macao Sept. 18, 1952, after leaving Red China. At Hong Kong, 40 miles away, authorities refused to accept his Red Cross travel papers and wouldn't let him debark. Macao also said he was unwanted.

So he rode and rode.

He says he's an American. He claims he just didn't bother to get a passport when he went to China 25 years ago.

The U. S. State Department denies he's a citizen. And the Justice Department has said he was deported by the United States as a result of assault, robbery and burglary convictions. The Justice Department said his true name is Steve Ragan.

Several Ragans in the United States claimed him for a brother, but nothing came of their actions.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Mead Eyler and daughter, Susan of Thurmond, Md., recently spent a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith and family of 302 E. George St. Mrs. Eyler is Mr. Smith's sister.

Children Starting School Must Be Vaccinated

All children who enter the first or second grade in Marion city schools for the first time this fall must be vaccinated against small pox and immunized against diphtheria before they may be admitted to classes.

This reminder was issued today by Mrs. Lois Ansley, school nurse. She said all local physicians have proper forms which they will fill out to verify the fact the child has received vaccination and diphtheria shots.

Parents financially unable to meet these requirements for their children may call Mrs. Ansley at the Board of Education office and other arrangemetns will be worked out.

In addition to the verification of vaccination and immunization, children entering school in Marion for the first time must present either a birth or mother's certificate before they may be admitted to classes, Mrs. Ansley said.

New Garbage Pickup Schedule Is Revised by Sanitation Dept.

A special pickup will be provided for any one whose refuse is not picked up on the scheduled day, Forrest said. Dulles Counts on Allied Aid To Bar Red China

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only time will show whether Secretary of State Dulles was right when he expressed confidence this week that Red China could be kept out of the United Nations.

The test won't come before late fall, at the earliest. Britain, which had favored U. N. membership for Red China, said yesterday the question can't be considered before the Korean peace conference opens. That will be late October.

Newsmen asked Dulles whether the United States, as a last resort, would use its veto power in the U. N. to bar the Chinese Communists. For some reason of his own, he stopped just short of saying positively yes.

But he said he felt this country's influence, plus the support of enough friendly nations which felt as the United States did about admitting the Communists to the U. N., would be enough to keep Red China out.

Only 17 of the 60 U. N. members so far have recognized the Communists as the legitimate government of China. Among the 17 is Britain. It's possible, if the peace talks go all right, that enough other nations will swing over to give the Communists U. N. membership.

The only place in the U. N. where this country could use its veto power is in the Security Council. There's a chance it might not be able to use it even there.

The Council has 11 members, 5 of them permanent: the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China (the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek).

The other six seats rotate among the remaining 55 members of the U. N. At present the six seats are occupied by Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Greece, Lebanon and Pakistan.

Approval of any issue requires a vote of at least 7 of the 11 members. The Council handles two kinds of problems: substantive and procedural. The Council decides when a matter is substantive and when it is procedural.

The distinction could be of the utmost importance in the case of Red China. In the past, in all cases where a country was seeking membership in the U. N., the Council considered it a substantive matter.

That was how Russia was able to keep them out with a veto. For instance, it vetoed the admittance of Ceylon and Portugal three times, Finland twice.

The reason: any one of the five permanent members has a right to kill any substantive matter with a veto, even though all other 10 members approved it. But when the Council decides a matter is procedural and not substantive the veto can't be used. Approval can be given with any seven votes.

This is where the importance of the distinction between substantive and procedural matters arises. Unlike those countries whose applications for membership Russia vetoed, China as a country is not asking membership. It has been a member from the beginning.

The question on China is whether Chiang's Nationalist government or the Chinese Communist government should be recognized as the legitimate government of China and allowed to hold the U. N. seat.

Suppose the Council chairman decided that, because China already is a member, the question of which Chinese government should be seated is a procedural matter. (The 11 Council members rotate the chairmanship monthly.)

Suppose further the 11 members voted on his ruling. There is no veto on a chairman's ruling. The United States could be outvoted. Then once the matter was established as procedural, with no veto allowed, the United States could be outvoted on letting Red China into the U. N.

If the question of admitting Red China to the U. N. General Assembly arose in that body, there's no veto there at all. Approval on a major question—Red China would be a major one—requires a two-thirds vote, 40 of the 60 members.

County Appointees To Hospital Board Being Considered

Marion County Commissioners in their regular meeting Thursday were considering county appointees to serve on the Board of Governors to supervise operation of the Marion General Hospital now under construction.

Four Marion men appointed by Mayor Harold F. Robinson and approved by City Council Monday night to serve on the hospital board were Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, Harold J. Grisby, John W. Watters and Ellis H. Oiler

Hospital commissioners, who are responsible only for the construction of the hospital, have urged early formation of the board so that a hospital adminstrator can be appointed in the immediate future

County commissioners possibly may be able to announce their appointments to the board by Monday, Ray Reidenbaugh, chairman, said today.

Scioto-Sandusky District Appeals

Scioto - Sandusky Conservancy District funds collected last year in Marion County again were in the spotlight as the district Wednesday asked the Ohno Supreme Court to reconsider a decision, the Associated Press reported today.

The court's decision, which threatens to hold up completion of conservancy projects, held that conservancy levies are taxes rather than assessments and must be voted on either by the people or by county commissioners.

Therefore, the court refused to require county auditors to levy a .3 mill district tax on property in their counties.

Marion county, along with several other counties in the district who have already collected the taxes, is waiting until a clarification of the court decision is made before making any plans to refund the money.

Fifth Polio Case Listed in County

The fifth case of polio in Marion this year was reported today by Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, health officer of the City Health Department. This boosted the total for the county to eight this year.

Virginia Everly, 11, daughter of Mrs. Owen Everly of 540 Blaine Ave. was taken to Children's Hospital in Columbus Wednesday where her illness was confirmed as polio. She first became ill about a week ago, the Health Department reported.

The family was quarantined Wednesday and three other younger children, James, 9, Robert, 6, and Jean, 4, were given gamma globulin shots.

This was the second confirmed polio case reported in Marion this week. A week-long illness of Letitia Swartz, 2, of 350 Waterloo St. was reported confirmed as polio at Children's Hospital Tuesday. The County Board of Health previously reported three other polio cases.

Foreign Aid

follows the pattern recently set in the rush to adjourn by this weekend, the final total probably will be 6½ billions—including about 4½ billions in new funds for the year which began July 1, and two billions in unpledged money from previous appropriations.

On final Senate passage, 37 Democrats outnumbered 31 Republican who shouted approval along with the lone independent, Morse of Oregon.

Opposing was a lone Democrat, Olin Johnston (SC) and nine Republicans: Bricker (Ohio), Capehart and Jenner (Ind), Dworshak and Welker (Idaho), Goldwater (Ariz), Langer and Young (ND) and Malone (Nev).

While a half-billion more than voted by the House, the $6,745,318,202 total was a half-billion less than requested by Eisenhower and some three billions below what former President Truman asked last January.

Passage of the bill, containing exactly the sum recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee, was considered an administration triumph by Acting Leader Knowland of California, Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Appropriations Committee and Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), who conceded he had bitterly fought similar measures in the past under Democratic presidents.

Knowland hit hard on the theme that any additional cuts in the foreign aid program might cause "ruthless men in the Kremlin" to believe the United States and the free world are weakening.

"If we do stand firm, no man can tell whether the stresses and strains may bring godless communism crashing down," he said.

As the bill cleared the Senate it contained $4,502,653,811 in new money and $2,182,664,391 in funds previously voted by Congress but not yet under contract or obligation.

The House had cut into both these funds. The Senate restored 124 millions of new cash plus 424 millions of previous funds.

Sen. Russell Long (D-La) led the initial effort to hold the funds to exactly the amount voted by the House. But it was beaten 53-35 as party lines split almost precisely down the middle. Voting for the cut were 17 Republicans, 17 Democrats and the lone independent. Against it were 27 Republicans and 26 Democrats.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), with a bitter protest against "blood money" and immoral trade, offered an amendment to withhold American aid, dollar for dollar, from any nation which traded with Red China.

Needing a two-thirds vote to suspend Senate rules in order to tack legislation on a money bill, McCarthy fell far short of even a majority, losing 50-34.

Truce

We will announce the results of our investigations later."

Wednesday the Reds accused the U. N. of eight minor violations of the three-day-old armistice. Bryan called the Communist charges unsubstantiated and asked for further information.

The U. N. made no formal complaint of Communist truce violations. But Air Force officiers said the big American radar station on Cho Island off North Korea tracked large numbers of Red warplanes flying to North Korean bases Monday night.

Under terms of the armistice, no additional weapons or armament could enter Korea after the ceasefire went into effect Monday night, aside from replacements. But Air Force officers said the flights continued after the deadline.

The officers said the planes presumably were MIG jets flying to bases in North Korea from Manchuria, where they have been safe from Allied aerial attacking during the war.

U. N. officials said all will be in readiness when the exchange of prisoners begins.

New Recruiter Is Assigned to Marion

M-Sgt. Wheatcroft Joins Sgt. LeRow in Duty At Local Post

M-Sgt. Howard G. Wheatcroft, who came to Marion the latter part of June while Sgt. James LeRow was on furlough, has been permanently assigned to the Marion recruiting station of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force, it was announced today.

With the assignment of an additional recruiter in Marion, the recruiting area for the local station has been enlarged to include Marion, Delaware, Morrow, Hardin and Union Counties.

Hours at the local recruiting office, located on the third floor of the Courthouse, are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day except Saturday when it will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Either Sgt. LeRow or Sgt. Wheatcroft will be on duty during those hours.

Kenton, Mt. Gilead Schedule

In addition, Sgt. Wheatcroft will be in Kenton on Monday afternoons from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. and in Mt. Gilead Friday afternoons from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Under this new schedule, Sgt. LeRow is in Delaware each day of the week except the afternoons he is in Marion.

Sgt. Wheatcroft comes to Marion from Owensboro, Ky., where he was assigned to the recruiting station the last two and one-half years. Prior to that time, he had been stationed at Elgin Air Force Base, Fla.; Ladd Air Force Base, Alaska; Smoky Hill Air Force Base, Kans.; Boca Raton Air Force Base, Fla.; and Lowery Air Force Base, Colo.

Served 4 Years in Navy

Before his service in the U. S. Air Force, Sgt. Wheatcroft had spent four years in the U. S. Navy from 1941 to 1945. During this time he participated in the battles of the Gilbert Islands, Mariana Islands, Saipan, Iwo Jima, and Okinawa. He later was assigned in Japan with the occupation forces.

Sgt. Wheatcroft brings his wife and two children to Marion with him. They are residing in the Twin Oaks Trailer Court on N. Main St.

During the past six months, Sgt. LeRow has done a "wonderful job" working for the Army and Air Force recruiting service in both Marion and Delaware, his commanding officer, Maj. Thomas L. Barford of Columbus, reports.

Maj. Barford has spoken very highly of Sgt. LeRow for the difficult job of keeping stations in both Marion and Delaware operating efficiently during the recent shortage of recruiting personnel.

Both recruiters welcome area citizens to stop in at their offices with any questions about the Army and Air Force.

BEING WELCOMED TO MARION is Sgt. Howard G. Wheatcroft (left), new recruiter stationed at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station. Extending the welcome is Sgt. James LeRow (right), who for the past six months has manned both the Marion and Delaware recruiting stations. The two recruiters are standing in front of the Marion County Courthouse.

Red Cross Head Announces Plans for Freed Prisoners

American Red Cross president E. Roland Harriman today announced the steps which will be taken to bring aid and comfort to American servicemen freed under terms of the Korean truce.

A team of 70 representatives of Red Cross societies in nine nations in the United Nations will work with both the U.N. and North Korean military staffs in prisoner repatriation. This team will include 18 from the American Red Cross staffs.

The Red Cross will distribute "ditty" bags containing toilet articles, writing materials, cigarets and reading matter. It will also provide a free 50 word radiogram to the home of each American freed. These messages will be taken at Korean reception areas and flown to Tokyo for transmission to America, since no facilities are available in Korea.

The Red Cross will also provide free phone calls to the United States wherever this is possible.

Workers will be available in reception area to aid freed servicemen with personal problems. Prisoners needing medical care will have recreation and consultant service provided in hospital.

At present, plans are being made to photograph as many of the freed men as possible. A print and the negative will be sent to the local Red Cross Chapter so the prisoner's family can consent to have the picture published in the local newspaper.

Two Ohio men will serve on the special 70-man team. They are Gerald G. Coron of Canton and William J. Sande of Cleveland.

Red Cross officials are preparing to meet any problems which might arise with the cessation of fighting. They are now considering expansion of the recreation facilities for able-bodied men which was halted at the outbreak of hostilities in 1950.

Debt

would have to exceed the ceiling or else the Treasury's working capital would be cut too low.

Right now, the debt stands at 272½ billion dollars, leaving the government only 2½ billions of new borrowing power.

A large part of that 2½ billion will probably be eaten away more or less automatically between now and the end of the year.

Among influential lawmakers who are opposed to any increase in the debt limit is Sen. Byrd (D-Va).

Byrd has served notice he will fight any such move.

He told the Senate yesterday an increase in the debt limit would be an "invitation to extravagance." The debt now is bumping against the ceiling at 272½ million dollars —leaving the government only 2½ billion dollars of new borrowing power.

Byrd's attitude, shared by some other legislators, raised the prospect that it might take a long time to fight out the issue.

One veteran senator said privately, however, he would not rule out the possibility Congress would pass the debt ceiling boost by Saturday night despite all the talk of long debate.

He said that the go-home fever now gripping Congress and the already-delayed vacation plans of many of the lawmakers might cause them to pass the measure quickly after airing their disappointment about it.

White House concern was indicated by the invitation to Democratic as well as Republican leaders to join the meeting. Normally only Republicans attend such conferences.

The debt ceiling now is 275 billion dollars and the red ink figure already is pushing against the lid, at 272½ billion. The next six months is a period of low tax receipts when spending seems certain to far outstrip income, and more borrowing will be needed.

House Republican leaders said they thought the plan could be pushed quickly through the House. But several members of the Ways and Means Committee said the proposal at least would require several days of hearings and would delay adjournment.

Rep. Kean (R-NJ), usually an administration supporter in the Ways and Means Committee, said in an interview he would "have to be awfully sure it is absolutely essential" before he would go along. If convinced the hike is necessary, he added, he could not oppose it.

AEC

be completed this summer at Rocky Flats, near Denver, Colo. Portions of this plant already are in operation. The AEC has described it only as a secret production facility involving radioactive material.

The commission said one of the two atomic power plants being developed for submarine use had already generated "substantial amounts of power" in tests, and the AEC added:

"Design work . . . is under way for developing an advanced nuclear power plant for a submarine of significantly higher speed than the first two nuclear-powered submarines."

Former President Truman, in speaking at the keel laying of the first atomic-powered submarine, Nautilus, said it would have a submerged speed of "more than 20 knots." This compares with 15 to 17 knots for orthodox subs. Unofficial estimates have been that the Nautilus might attain a speed of 30 knots.

The AEC reiterated it had dropped previous plans to develop an atomic engine for use in a large surface vessel — such as an aircraft carrier — but the commission said the design that had been under consideration "also has promise for central station power" for industrial use.

Cited for Shoplifting

A charge of shoplifting was filed in Marion Municipal Court Tuesday against Mrs. Rae Schoen of 844 Uhler Rd. A warrant signed by Samuel J. Cirivello, assistant manager of Albers Supermarket on E. Center St., charges she took a pound of butter worth 77 cents from the store without paying for it.

Mrs. Schoen was arrested at 10:29 a.m. Tuesday on W. Center St. She was released a short time later after posting a $100 bond for her appearance in Municipal Court for a hearing. No date has been set for the hearing.

A hospital bulletin issued at 5 p. m. yesterday said Taft "had a better day" than on Tuesday. Yesterday morning's bulletin reported the 63-year-old Republican majority leader from Ohio was "somewhat improved."

Farm Bureau

in operating the mill at the Park Blvd. location.

He said the land was leased from the Pennsylvania Railroad on a yearly basis and that the lease could be terminated by the railroad on a 30-day notice. In addition, the association was not only paying the rent on the leased land, but also the taxes on that land and taxes on the Bellefontaine Ave. land.

There was also a constant parking problem on Park Blvd. The lot which the association was renting was only one-half acre in area. The equipment at the old spot was also inadequate for handling the crops the farmers brought there.

Frayer said that it took three men working eight hours a day to grind 15 tons of feed at the old mill. In a modern, well-equipped mill, howecer, it will take only two men working the same length of time to grind almost 17 tons of feed.

He went on to say that in those counties which have had fires and rebuilt, the cooperatives have prospered, but where no rebuilding took place, the associations were put out of business.

The first speaker of the evening, Kenneth Robbins, district supervisor of the Farm Bureau Cooperative, went through the financial situation of the business up to May 31. He said farmers in the county had invested about $115,000 in stock in the company, and that this investment had grown so that the cooperative at the time of the fire was worth about $260,000.

Even with that growth in the worth of the original investments, the association was still behind in its finances. There was about $112,000 in loans which still had to be paid as of May 31.

He further said that money was needed for three purposes:

1. To build the new mill and elevator.

2. To properly equip the new buildings so that they would be able to handle the crops.

3. To leave enough surplus so that the association would have an operating fund.

In the question and answer period which preceded the voting, it was shown that the cooperative would have to have a railroad spur built into the new location at its own expense. Cost of the operation was estimated to be from $12 to $15 for each foot of track laid. This project would be necessary in order to allow the quick and efficient moving of grain from the elevator to other locations.

Another matter explained in that period was that both the stocks and bonds which would be sold would be in denominations of $50 and that unless Marion County farmers were able to invest all the money themselves, they would probably be sold to outsiders.

After the voting was held, a special list was distributed to the voters. This list contained spaces for the members to check what equipment they desired in the new structures. Outcome of the survey will be made public following the meeting of the board of directors Monday.

The list also provided a space for the members to indicate how much they would be willing to invest in the new program. Both the stocks and the bonds would bear from four to four and one-half per cent interest.

According to the plan proposed at the meeting, not more than $10,000 worth of bonds would come due in any one year. The first payments on the notes would be in 1960 and continue for the next five years.

Nearly 1,500 letters inviting members to the meeting were sent out at the end of last week. Officials attributed the low attendance Wednesday night to the heat and to the fact that the meeting was called on such short notice. They explained, though, that they wanted to reach a decision as the insurance adjustment came through and before the fall harvesting, planting, and various fairs were expected.

Officials explained that the meeting Wednesday night was necessary because of the rules governing the operation of the association. The board of directors could not make such decision itself and had to call upon the members for an expression of their attitudes and opinions.

Almost all the speakers emphasized the fact that the cooperatives were a necessary part of the operations of the farms of members. They said that the biggest problem of farmers is buying and selling and the association helps them do the job more economically than any other plan.

Complete details of the money raising methods and the type of mill and elevator to be erected will be disclosed in the future.

The meeting was opened by musical selections by Roy Loudenslager playing the marimba. Elder P. D. Hite gave the invocation and Robert Eisele, president of the association presided at the meeting.

Turnpike Bids Said Satisfactory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bids on Ohio Turnpike projects opened yesterday, as related to engineers' estimates, were "very satisfactory," the Ohio Turnpike Commission reported today.

The commission opened bids on 12.1 miles of roadway in Lucas and Fulton counties. An apparent low bid of $6,891,387 for three construction sections was submitted by Launder and Sons Co. and Pierce Construction Co., both of Toledo, as a joint venture.

A total of 26 bids was submitted by 11 road contractors. The commission said today the favorable bids "reflected alterations in certain requirements in the proposals involved." One alteration changed the open-to-traffic date from July 1, 1955, to Oct. 1, 1955.

Members of the commission and key personnel of the commission staff are in New York today conferring with underwriters of the turnpike revenue bonds. They are to discuss whether the altered conditions for construction of the three sections should be extended to apply on the remaining roadway sections not yet open for bidding.

Hot This Month? Just Two Degrees Over Normal Here

The weather in Marion during the first 28 days of July was about two degrees above normal for the period. Temperatures averaged four degrees higher during the first week of July than ordinarily. From July 7 to 14, the temperature was six degrees below normal giving the city a respite from the heat.

It got warmer the following week, however. The temperatures in that week were three degrees above normal. During the last week ending July 28, the temperature was only one degree above normal.

These figures were released Wednesday by the U. S. Department of Commerce Weather Bureau Office in Columbus. The bureau reported 2.97 inches of rain fell on Marion during the period from July 1 to 28. Most of this has fallen during the last two weeks. During the first week, only 15 hundredths of an inch fell on Marion. There was not a drop during the second week.

The greatest rains fell in the week from July 14 to 21. A little over an inch and one-half relieved the drought which had threatened many of the crops on county farms. This was followed the next week with 1.29 inches, which brought most of the crops back to normal.

Bill on Subversives Vetoed by Lausche

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today vetoed a bill to turn over work of the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission to the attorney general's office next January.

The governor's action ran his veto string to 10 for enactments of the 100th General Assembly. Members of the Legislature return tomorrow to consider vetoes and take final adjournment.

"I am in accord with the supporters of this bill that communism is a menace to our country and that we should combat it on every front," Lausche said in his veto message to the Legislature. But he objected to the measure that would outlaw subversive organizations and provide heavy penalties for "knowing" participation in them.

The governor's message read in part:

"The stated purpose of the bill is to investigate and control subversive activities. It contemplates establishing in the office of the attorney general of Ohio a special section to investigate communism, to assemble, arrange, and deliver the names of witnesses, evidential matter and other information pertaining to subversive individuals and organizations to the local county prosecutors for submission by them to the grand juries . . .

"However, we should be certain that the means we choose shall be consistent with the true American concept of justice and human rights. In the zeal to apprehend culprits, let us not leave a wake of ruined lives and reputations of innocent Americans . . ."

The 100th General Assembly extended the life of an Un-American Activities Commission until next January. The commission has cited several balky witnesses for contempt in refusing to answer questions. Some of them have been indicted.

The Legislature also passed and sent to the governor two other subversive control measures. One would make it cause for dismissal for state employes to refuse to answer questions of legitimate investigating bodies as to their fitness to hold their jobs. Another provides for dismissal of public employes who knowingly belong to subversive organizations. The governor has not acted on those two measures.

Tangerine Refrigerator Dessert Is Rated Tops

A chilled dessert is an ideal treat on hot summer days. So you'll welcome this cooling and tempting tangerine refrigerator dessert. First cousin to the English trifle, it's as refreshing as sitting in an air-conditioned movie.

TANGERINE REFRIGERATOR DESSERT

Ingredients: 2 eggs, separated, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup milk, scalded, 1 can (6 oz.) fresh-frozen tangerine juice (undiluted), 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup water, 1 pkg. lady fingers or leftover sponge cake.

Method: Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat. Add scalded milk very slowly, still beating. Place mixture in double boiler over hot (not boiling) water, and stir until it coats back of spoon.

Remove from heat and add tangerine juice, undiluted, 1 tablespoon at a time, stirring after each addition. Allow gelatin to soften in cold water 5 minutes; stir over moderate heat until completely dissolved. Beat gelatin mixture into custard.

Place in refrigerator until partially set. Then fold in 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten. Grease a dish about 8 inches in diameter, 4 inches deep and line with ladyfingers, split in half lengthwise, or leftover sponge cake. Add tangerine mixture, then cover top with remaining ladyfingers or cake.

Chill in refrigerator at least 6 hours, preferably overnight. If you wish to unmold, run a spatula gently a round edge of dessert and invert onto serving platter. Serve with whipped cream if desired. Serves 6-8.

Koehler-Schuster Vows Exchanged in Upper

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — The St. Paul Lutheran Church in this city was the scene Saturday night of a candlelight service uniting in marriage Ann M. Koehler and Henry E. Schuster.

The Rev. F. LeRoy Sarver, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Foster Koehler of Upper Sandusky and the late Foster Koehler. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schuster of Little Sandusky and for a number of years has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Burton Zimmerman, of this city.

Miss Donna Marie Larick of Nevada, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. David Eippert, friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride.

The new Mrs. Schuster is a graduate of Upper Sandusky High School and the bridegroom finished school while in service in Santa Fe, New Mexico. He spent four years in the Air Force, with two years being spent overseas. He is now employed at the Wyandot Vault Co. in Upper Sandusky.

Revolving Bomb Bay Door Designed

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Glenn L. Martin Company has announced development of a revolving bomb bay door designed to make it speedier and safer for a bomber to get rid of its explosives.

Bombs are loaded onto the door before it is hoisted into the plane. Over target, the door is flipped over a full 180 degrees, the bombs are dropped and the door flipped back again.

Result: no open bomb bay doors to cut down the plane's speed.

The door is being used in the company's new XB51 three-jet tactical bomber.

GALION REUNION HELD

GALION — Twenty-eight members of the class of 1948, Galion High School, and their families, gathered at Heise Park Saturday afternoon for a first reunion and potluck. The group went to East Park for the evening. Music for dancing in the Boy Scout Lodge was provided by the Loud Shirts dance band of Iberia.

FRENCH BATTLE VIETMINH

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—French Union forces battled fiercely resisting Communist - led Vietminh troops along the "street without joy" today as the French tightened their armed noose around a string of rebel-held villages along the Central Indochinese coast.

The 10,000-man French force which launched a surprise assault Tuesday has captured 20 of the villages.

South Dakota Boy's Wish To Come True

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old South Dakota lad gets his strange wish fulfilled today. He will see how safes are made.

Harold McConkey started his journey here once before with the $100 he earned on a rubbish collection route. However, police returned him to his home in Mitchell even though his parents had granted him permission to travel.

The President of the Mosler Safe Co., Edwin H. Mosler Jr., heard of the boy's plight. Naturally he admired his goal. So he invited him to tour the safe plant as his guest.

10TH POLIO CASE

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Canton's latest polio case, a 4-year-old girl, has raised the total number of cases here this year to 10.

Water Safety Classes Slated To End Friday

Children and adults numbering 216 have participated during the past two weeks in water safety classes sponsored by the Marion Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Classes will be concluded Friday when tests will be given and certificates awarded. Instruction is given at Crystal Lake pool. Children were instructed in morning sessions, while the evening classes were for adult beginners and for life saving.

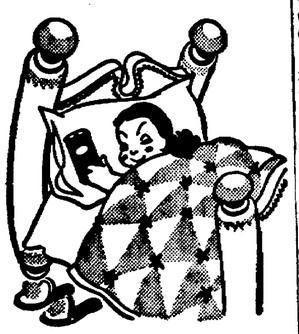
Directors for the course are Miss Janet Frew and Miss Judy Hamilton, who attended the Red Cross National Aquatic School in June at Camp Limberlost in Indiana.

They have been assisted by other qualified water safety instructors, Miss Josephine Judy, Mrs. Thomas Clark, Mrs. Ruth Keener, Lloyd Cook and Don Baggs, with junior and senior lifesavers aiding in the morning classes for children.

RECOVER GIRL'S BODY

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The body of Helen Scott, 19-year-old girl who drowned during an early morning swimming party, was found in Nimisila Reservoir late yesterday. A group of youngsters with whom she was swimming said they missed her at 5 p. m. yesterday.

Little Bo-Peep
Was losing her sleep
Because a bug buzzed around her...



She reached under the bed,
Shot the bug dead,
And now she sleeps so much sounder!

Dodgers Well on Way To Clinching NL Pennant

Leaders on Triumphant Swing Through the West

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

More and more the Brooklyn Dodgers' current Western trip is beginning to look like the triumphant tour of a reigning monarch through the provinces.

It's still theoretically a pennant race in the National League, but a glance at the standings today shows it's more theory than race. The Dodgers lead by eight games over second-place Milwaukee with 57 left to play for each club.

The Dodgers could still blow it, but it wouldn't be easy.

For example, suppose Brooklyn --which has won 15 of its last 17 and at almost a 2-1 average all season—would suddenly fall off to a .500 pace, losing as many as it wins the rest of the way.

If such a thing happened, Milwaukee would have to win 37 of its remaining 57 games to gain a tie. That's a .649 clip, considerably faster than the Braves have moved so far. Third-place Philadelphia would have to win 42 while St. Louis would have to take 41 of its last 59.

Brooklyn shaded Chicago 6-5 yesterday and gained a full game over the Braves, who bowed 3-2 to the Giants in Milwaukee. The Phillies fell apart in Cincinnati, losing 13-4. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 8-2 as Harvey Haddix registered his 12th victory against four losses.

The New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox widened their lead over their first-division cohorts in the American League. The Yankees turned back Cleveland for the second straight time 7-3 and the White Sox exploded for eight runs in the ninth inning to whip the Red Sox 8-3. Chicago trails New York by 5½ games but Boston has dropped 9½ behind and Cleveland 10.

In second-division battles in the American League, Washington trounced Detroit 13-5 with Mickey Vernon blasting a three-run home run and two singles and Philadelphia made it two in a row over St. Louis 9-3.

The Dodgers opened up with their extra-base artillery in Chicago to score five runs in the fourth inning and added what proved to be the winning run in the fifth when Gil Hodges walked with two out and scored on a double by Roy Campanella.

The Giants broke a string of 22 scoreless innings against Milwaukee before their game was one out old. Whitey Lockman led off with a triple and Al Dark brought him home with a single. Dark later scored on Monte Irvin's single. A double by Bobby Thomson and a single by Wes Westrum in the second produced the run the Giants needed to win.

Cincinnati drove Robin Roberts of the Phils to the showers for only the second time this season with the assortment of throwers who followed the ace to the mound couldn't do much about silencing the Redlegs' bats either.

The St. Louis attack against Johnny Lindell and two Pirate relief men including four doubles, a triple by Enos Slaughter and Solly Hemus' 11th home run with a man aboard.

Maury McDermott tamed the White Sox at Boston for eight innings on two hits but they pounded him out of the box in the ninth with an all-out attack. Billy Pierce went all the way for his 12th victory.

The Yankees spotted Cleveland three early runs, caught up by the end of five and then won the game with four in the sixth.

FINSTERWALD SECOND

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald, Athens, Ohio, pro, shot a 71 Wednesday to move into second place in the U. S. Air Force golf tournament. A sparkling 2-under-par 80 sent 2nd Lt. Morris Williams of Austin, Tex., into the lead. Maj. Walt Davison of Riverside, Calif., tied Finsterwald with a 71.

Drives Short, Women Make Use of Putter

Quarter-Final Play Begins Today in Western Amateur

By FRITZ HOWELL

CINCINNATI (AP)—Not too long off the tees but putting with the precision of professionals, eight of America's fairest fairway stars went into quarter final matche today in the 53rd Women's Western Amateur golf championship.

Defending champion Polly Riley, 26-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., bookkeeper, was favored to retain her laurels after escaping a three down dilemma and scoring a one up victory yesterday over 23-year-old Edean Anderson, six-time Montana champion from Helena.

Miss Riley had Mae Murray, 27, a hotel desk clerk from Rutland, Vt., as her foe today in a replay of the 1950 championship match at Highland Park, Ill., which the Texan won, 4 and 3.

Also scheduled were matches between:

Claire Doran, 29, Cleveland school teacher and two-time Ohio champion, and Virginia Dennehy, 19 - year - old Northwestern sophomore from Lake Forest, Ill., and 1951 Western Junior champion;

Pat Devany, 26, auto sales woman from Grosse Ile, Mich., and Gloria Fecht, 26, former Ice Follies skating specialist and now a country club secretary at Palm Springs, Calif.;

Jane Nelson,, 25, schoolteacher and former Indiana champion from Indianapolis and Mrs. Maurice Glick of Pikesville, Md., a 42-year-old housewife who this year won the Maryland championship for the seventh time and is the current Cuban links queen.

Toledo Protects First Place Hold

By The Associated Press

Toledo still held its recently-won American Association lead today after defeating St. Paul 6-4 last night, but Louisville and Indianapolis kept pace with the Sox by grabbing double wins that left them only ½ game out of first place.

Louisville defeated last - place Charleston, 2-1 and 4-2, to gain a .571 percentage rating. A double, 4-3 and 9-7 triumph over Minneapolis gave Indianapolis a percentage of .570. Columbus and Kansas City were not scheduled.

At St. Paul, the Toledo Sox continued their perfect record for the season on the Saints' home grounds. Virgil Jester fashioned a 10-hitter against the Apostles to boost his season record to 10-3.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Tiffin sportswriters have accused officiating in a recent Pony League district game at Lincoln Park with keeping their entry out of the regional tournament at Canton.

A Tiffin newspaper carried the account of the local team's 6-4 win and explained it away with complaints. The paper said bad calls by the umpire gave Marion four runs in the sixth frame.

SHORT

The writer told his readers:

"Umpiring left much to be desired last evening at Marion's Lincoln Park when the Tiffin All-Stars took a 6-4 setback in tournament action.

"The bad calls came in the last of the sixth inning when on the third out two good pitches were called balls and an obviously out man at third was called safe."

The writer went on to say the locals fielded a better team than had been expected and that Butch Simpson did a fair job on the mound.

We don't know where the writer received his information but it sounds as though it came from a disgruntled manager.

We've been watching baseball games from the pressbox at the park for three years and we still can't tell a close ball from a strike until the umpire motions.

We always enjoyed hooting at the umpire until Jim McClintock, former Ohio-Indiana League ump, stopped us one night. He asked pointblank if we knew where the pitches had been. He had us stumped and we had to admit, we couldn't tell when the balls broke over the plate. We doubt if any of the fans could either.

The Tiffin manager certainly couldn't tell. He had one of the poorest seats in the park in relation to home plate.

SURE FIRE BET. Detroit and Ann Arbor writers continue to call Dean Ludwig a cinch to land a varsity berth with the University of Michigan grid team this fall. Dean, a Harding graduate, forced the moving of Dick O'Shaughnessy, Wolverine captain, from his regular center post to a guard position. Dean is to hold down the offensive center and perform as a linebacker.

Latest flashes from the Michigan campus predict a "great" future for Ludwig. He is picked to make the alumni forget such worthy successors as Germany Schultz, from around the turn of the century, up to present-day stars Dick Kempthorne and Roger Zatkoff.

CAN TED LIFT SOX TO THE TOP? Slugger Ted Williams, getting the feel of a bat for the first time in 14 months, steps out of the Boston Red Sox dugout while thousands of curious fans stand to get a look at the former Marine captain. Williams, who flew 39 combat missions in Korea, signed for the remainder of the 1953 and the 1954 campaigns for a reported 140 thousand dollars. Williams, counted on to help the Sox to a possible pennant, said it may take three weeks to round into shape.

Marion Metal Nine Takes 1st in Industrial Loop Play

Marion Metal dumped Gasco - Maish 14-4 Wednesday at Garfield Park in Industrial League No. 2 softball action to walk into sole possession of first place. Both the C & O Railroad and Baker Wood came through with victories to remain close behind Marion Metal which now has a perfect record of four wins against no losses.

Baker Wood which holds the second spot on a percentage basis with a record of four wins and two losses. The C & O is third position, is actually in the best position to overcome Marion Metal. They are in third position with a three and one record but a win next week over the Marion Metal team would toss the league into a two-way tie. A win for the league leaders will cinch them the second round championship.

Marion Metal scored 12 runs in the first two innings against Gasco-Maish and went on to take the verdict in six innings by a 14-4 count. McGowan, winning pitcher, gave up only five hits over the six innings he worked while his mates were reaching Pollak pitching for 14 base hits.

The C & O pasted General Telephone by a 17-5 count, scoring six times in the first frame and six more in the fourth inning with five tallies sandwiched between. Howard Medley was the winning hurler, allowing three hits.

Baker Wood romped in its 11-1 win over Pollak, scoring eight runs in the second frame on four hits as the Pollak defense fell apart at the seams.

Golfers Limber Up For All-American

CHICAGO (AP) — A money-hungry horde of 225 golfers limbered up in par-smashing practice and qualifying rounds, teed off over tough-ened-up Tam O'Shanter today in the start of the $30,000 All-American championships.

Three separate tournaments included 31 players in the Women's Open, 34 in the Men's Amateur and 160 in the Men's Professional.

The second section of the Tam O'Shanter jamboree will begin in a week. It is tabbed the "World Championship of Golf" with a $90,000 purse distribution.

Hietikko May Be Finished, Fractures Arm

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—A possible end to his football career loomed today for Jim Hietikko, who broke his arm for the third time while working out with the Cleveland Browns.

The Conneaut tackle who played for Ohio State last year, suffered the break just below the elbow yesterday. The arm was fractured there twice last year and there had been some question of whether it healed sufficiently to stand further football abuse this year.

It was expected that Doug Atkins, a defense end, would be shifted to tackle to fill Hietikko's place

Direct Rhythm Favored in $50,000 Pace

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Direct Rhythm, the fastest living pacer, goes against 14 other top ranking sidewheelers tonight as the favorite to win the $50,000 Nassau Pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

With two worthy pacing mates in Meadow Rice and Adio Abe, the 5-year-old son of Billy Direct from W. G. Reynolds' Stable of Lexington, Ky., is expected to rule the 3-1 favorite in the Grand Circuit mile and one-half feature.

Chief opposition is expected to come from Dudley Hanover, winner of $190,372.25. Dudley, owned by the Hayes Fair Acres Stable of Duquoin, Ill., won the event last year and was third back of Direct Rhythm and Thomas B. Scott in the pacing derby.

Last night Newport Star and Elby Hanover moved up in pre-Hambletonian spectulations as they captured the two divisions of the $45,000 Old Country Trot.

Elby Hanover from the Saunders Mills Stable of Toledo, Ohio, won the first division in 2:06 2-5 and won by a head over the fast closing Shelby Hanover, owned by Wales T. Flynt of Crawfordville, Ga.

Newport Star, the Hambletonian favorite from Octave Blake's Newport stock farm of South Plainfield, N. J., trotted the mile in the comparatively slow time of 2:08 1-5.

Yesterday's STARS

By The Associated Press

Batting—Mickey Vernon, Washington Senators, hit a three run home run and two singles as Washington overpowered Detroit 13-5.

Pitching — Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinals, scattered seven hits in winning his 12th game against four losses, 8-2 over Pittsburgh.

Indians Trail by 10

Cleveland Counted Out After Defeat by Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — They buried Cleveland's Indians again, and this time it appeared the coffin would be strong enough to hold them.

Virtually counted out of the race after four straight New York shellackings in June, the Tribe staged a mild revival before again going into a tailspin.

Now, with two consecutive New York defeats, the Indians are 10 games behind the Yanks with only 57 games left to play.

The Yankees seem definitely hot again, and the Tribe would gain little satisfaction by winning the final game today of their current series. Mike Garcia (12-6) will take the mound for Cleveland and Ed Lopat (10-26) for New York.

Vic Raschi held the Tribesmen to one earned run and nine hits, three of them bunts, in defeating the Indians 7-3 yesterday. Bob Lemon walked five, gave up eight hits and all of New York's runs before being relieved by Bill Wight in the sixth.

All three Indian runs came in the second inning on four singles, a walk and an error by Gil McDougald.

The Yankees scored single runs in the second, third and fifth innings and then pushed over four in a sixth-inning uprising featured by Billy Martin's two-run homer.

After the circuit blow, Phil Rizzuto singled, Raschi sacrified and McDougald brought the Scotter home on another one-bagger. A single by Yogi Berra scored McDougald.

Redlegs Slow Roberts' Drive For 30 Wins

Kluszewski Belts 30th Home Run To Tie Team Record

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Redleg power hitting can make even the best of pitchers look bad at times.

That was what happened last night as the Rhinelanders took picks on Robin Roberts, Jim Konstanty, Karl Drews and Andy Hansen for 13-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

The Reds clubbed out 17 hits which included home runs by Ted Kluszewski and Hobie Landrith.

Kluszewski's homer was his 30th of the year and tied the all time record in circuit blows by a left handed Cincinnati hitter. Ival Goodman set the record for the Reds back in 1938.

Jackie Collum won his fourth game for Cincinnati.

The Reds scored three in the first on Rocky Bridges, double, a single by Bobby Adams and Kluszewski's home run.

The Phils wiped that out with a four-run outburst in the second but Landrith's homer in the bottom half put Cincinnati ahead to stay.

The Redlegs got to Roberts for two more runs in the third on Willard Marshall's two-run double which scored Adams and Jim Greengrass.

Two more runs were scored in the fifth off Konstanty with the big blow being Gus Bell's double. Then the Reds took a liking to the pitching of Drews. They got him for three runs in the sixth on three singles, a hit batsman and an error by Granny Hamner.

Hansen gave up the last two Cincinnati tallies in the seventh on three more hits which included Collum's double.

Cardington Fills Coaching Vacancy

CARDINGTON — Edward Wolfe, native of Amanda, O., has been named head coach at Cardington High School. His appointment was announced today by the Cardington Board of Education.

Wolfe succeeds Dennis Bell, who announced his retirement earlier this week. Bell accepted an appointment as coach at Washington Court House.

Wolfe comes to Cardington from Waynesfield where he has served as football and basketball coach for five years. He graduated from Defiance College in 1948.

He was active in all sports while attending Amanda High School and also at Defiance College. He also saw action with athletic teams at the Philadelphia Naval Yards. The new coach is unmarried and expects to report here around Aug. 15. He will be in charge of football, basketball and baseball.

Million Quakes Yearly, Seismologist Estimates

DENVER (AP)—There are more than one million earthquakes a year, the Rev. James B. MacElwane, president of the Jesuit Seismological Association said last night. The association is meeting in Denver.

"But it isn't as bad as it sounds," he added hastily. "Only a fraction of these quakes can be felt without using instruments such as the seismograph and very seldom do they cause any damage."

Fiore Credits Upset Verdict To 2 Trainers

Followed Advice in Unanimous Decision Over Dan Giovanelli

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—The Florio brothers—Dan and Nick—can take the bows for Carmine Fiore's upset victory last night over Danny Giovanelli at Madison Square Garden.

"I did everything my trainers told me," said Fiore. "Dan and Nick told me to go in there and fight him. That's what I did. They told me to use my right more because he'd be looking for the left."

The 23-year-old veteran of 62 fights did just that. Time after time he hammered home a right lead over Danny's pawing jab. Then when he found the opening, he'd crash a left hook to the head.

Fiore, a 3 to 1 underdog, scored as surprising an upset in whipping 21-year-old Giovanelli before some 2,500, paying $7,500, as Danny boy had done when he defeated Vince Martinez in May. The Martinez win was the one that "made" Giovanelli.

Beaten by Martinez last January and stopped by Carmen Basilio in April, Fiore now wants return matches with both.

"I won the welterweight championship of Brooklyn," he said. "Now I want the New York state title. After that, who knows?"

Giovanelli was let down by the outcome of this scrap between two Brooklyn lads. "He sneaked punches at me when I least expected them," he said. "I'd like to fight him again. I guess he just has more experience than me."

It was the third defeat for Giovanelli in 24 starts, ending a 13-fight win streak.

There was no doubt about the decision in the nationally televised bout. Referee Al Berl had it 8-2, Judge Jack Gordon 7-2-1 and Judge Art Aidala 6-3-1. The AP card was 7-2-1.

Fiore dropped Giovanelli with a left just before the bell ended the eighth. He had him in trouble, but not on the deck, in the first and sixth. Just before the final bell, a solid right to the body doubled up his opponent. Fiore weighed 146, Giovanelli 145½.

Last Sunday, the Elevator team also ran into a pitcher who has been signed by a major league team. Ohlen Hemmerly, Forest moundsman, signed a contract with the Cincinnati Redlegs just prior to the game. He then pitched his mates to a 6-3 verdict over Green Camp.

Don Johnson was charged with the Green Camp loss. He along with Jack Daum and Bob Weston banged out two hits each off Hemmerly's slants.

Seven Events Scheduled at Richwood Oval

Seven events are carded on the regular Friday night card at the Richwood Speedway, Promoter John Collier announced today.

Time trials are scheduled for 7 p.m. with the first race getting under way at 8:30. Joe Jones, Ed Douglass, Chet Johnson, Dick Decker and Jim Reese are all expected for this week's session.

Collier anonunced that NARC would sponsor a "Miss Cheesecake" contest for unmarried girls who can drive at the Richwood track. The winner will be sent to Akron to compete for the title "Crash Queen" Sept. 14.

Dick Baughman's predicted second win in a row at Richwood Speedway last week was harder earned after the race was over than it was on the track. It was over four hours later that he finally collected his money. The defeated contestants pooled $50 to stage a complete teardown of Baughman's car and after picking through the motor from front to rear, they were unable to find "what makes it go so fast."

Protesting drivers did receive their $50 worth of looking. This made two in a row for Baughman and the win was more decisive than the first one.

American Leaguers Drop 9-1 Verdict To Newark Squad

Marion's Little American League All-Stars were dropped in their second tournament game Wednesday night at Newark to a high - flying Newark American League All-Star team. In their first game Tuesday night the locals stopped the Newark National League bid but were whipped 9-1 last night by the same team that put the Marion National Leaguers out of contention Monday night.

McKinney hit a home run to spark the Newark rally in the first when six runs came across the plate. Newark after remaining idle for four innings came through again in the sixth with three unneeded tallies.

Marion's single score came in the second on a four-base blow by Collins. Three pitchers, Walters, Bartz, and Boyd saw mound duty for Marion.

Wright was the winning pitcher for Newark.

The loss puts Marion out of tournament play.

Clark Metal and Alloy Win Pony League Tilts

Clark Metal Products started the second half of Pony League schedule by beating league leading VFW 5-4 and Alloy Cast Steel dropped G and G Builders 9-6 in two games played Wednesday night.

Clark scored two in the first and two in the third for a substantial lead. VFW came through with four in the fifth to make a comeback but Clarks nipped the rally. Larry Corbin was the winning pitcher for Clark.

In the second game Alloy led off by scoring one in the first but was tied by the Builders in the second. Pulling ahead again in the third Williams, Barrett and Ledford scored three for the Alloy. Two more big innings for Alloy assured them the game. They came through with three in the fifth and two in the sixth.

G and G switched the scoring with two in the fifth and three in the sixth but it wasn't enough to overtake Alloy's big lead. Joe Ambrose was the winning pitcher for the Alloy.

No games will be played tonight in Pony League competition.

Future, Past Side by Side In N.Y. Valley

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP) — History and the future rub elbows in New York's picturesque Mohawk Valley.

From its birthplace in a pasture spring near Rome to the Cohoes Falls, where it tumbles into the Hudson, the Mohawk River flows for some 100 miles through one of the country's most historically important sections.

Today, the same scenic region is dotted with bustling industry and resounds to the noise of plane, train, highway and canal traffic.

Just 10 miles from the famous Jan Mabie House, built in 1706, stands the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory where General Electric Co. scientists work on things-to-come.

Fort Stanwix and Jets

The lab is on the outskirts of Schenectady, site of a bloody French-inspired Indian massacre in 1690. Today, sprawling factories of General Electric and American Locomotive companies stand on the banks of the Mohawk there.

In August, 1777, Fort Stanwix guarded the western end of the valley. It was there that the newly authorized Stars and Stripes first was raised in the face of an enemy.

Today, the site of the fort is marked by a tablet in downtown Rome, a city of varied industry. Nearby is Griffiss Air Force Base, where the roar of jet fighter planes is common.

Five miles to the east is Oriskany Battlefield, where Mohawk alley militiamen fought what has been called the bloodiest battle of the American Revolution. The home and grave of the hero of that battle, Gen. Nicholas Herkimer, is now a state-maintained historic site, 30 miles farther east.

Catholic Martyrs

Route 5, a principal east - west artery, runs along the north bank of the Mohawk, which for miles is the channel of the heavily-traveled State Barge Canal. At Little Falls, the canal boats are carried around a falls in the river by a 40-foot-deep lock—one of the deepest in the country.

At Dolgeville, just eight miles north of Little Falls, nature-lovers find Beaversprite Sanctuary where they can watch the animals at work. Sixteen miles east of Little Falls, Beech - Nut Packing Co. maintains its big Canajoharie plant.

Close by is Auriesville where Saints Isaac Jogues, Rene Goupil and John La Lande, the first North American saints of the Roman Catholic Church, were martyred by the Indians. It is now famous for its National Shrine of the North American Martyrs.

Another Historic Place

Five miles to the north is historic Johnstown, an important colonial community. It still is important as a leading glove-manufacturing center. Also, still standing is Johnson Hall, home of Sir William Johnson, powerful Indian agent for the British.

The river winds on through the valley, past Amsterdam and Schnectady, into Cohoes Falls where its waters, cascading down the rocky drop, provided the power that made possible the beginnings of the textile industry in the city of Cohoes.

A FOURTH GRADE school teacher, Velva Robbins of Dowagiac, passed all tests with flying colors to become "Miss Michigan." The 20-year-old blue-eyed blonde will represent the state at the beauty pageant at Atlantic City, N. J., this September.

Illinois Residents Seek Separation

OLD SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (UP) —Dreams of vanished glory have been reawakened in this sleepy Ohio River town since the change of administration in Illinois.

Residents are pinning their hopes for a rebirth of their community, which was a thriving city when Chicago was a swamp, on a bill in the Illinois legislature.

The bill would separate Old Shawneetown from New Shawneetown. Oldtowners say the bill has the backing of Gov. William G. Stratton, who heads the states's new Republican administration.

Politically, the towns are one. Physically, they are two — the 150-year-old village crouched behind the Ohio River levee, and the new town, three miles inland on higher ground.

New Shawneetown came into being after the disastrous flood of 1937, when the river came five feet over the levee. Federal and state governments combined to move the town inland.

Most of the 1,000 townsfolk moved, but some stayed, preferring their ancient home—and the dangers of the river. It is these who are pushing the bill for separation. "A new Bill of Rights," they call it.

Paul Stefko, vociferous advocate of separation, said "it's like living behind the Iron Curtain" now in Old Shawneetown.

He said the old town pays $13,000 yearly in taxes but little of it comes back in the way of improvements.

On the surface, his point is well taken. The old town is a cluster of crumbling century-old buildings and dilapidated frame shacks connected by pitted streets.

Stefko said the old town gets no fire protection, no water, no sewer system for its tax money.

Newtowners take a different view. Mayor Sam Denton cited figures that he said proved the old town's taxes don't pay for municipal services.

"The old town couldn't exist if it were cut loose," he added.

Stefko's answer was that "we have a great future here." he envisioned Old Shawneetown as a summer resort, a major river port and an industrial center.

It was all that 100 years and more ago. In those days, haughty Shawneetown bankers turned down a loan to develop Chicago, saying it was too far away to amount to much.

He meets a boy, wins his faith and friendship, leaves him at the threshold of manhood. He inspires dread in the hearts of some but endears himself forever to a beautiful woman who knows him only as a stranger.
The setting of the story is America . . . its pleasures and perils, smoldering feuds that hang, like storm clouds over the earth; people dancing and setting off fireworks at a holiday party . . .

Inside Labor

Sign of the Snail

By Victor Riesel

SOMEWHERE IN GERMANY

The Russians now know they must defeat "The Sign of the Snail."

It is the symbol of sabotage against them. It is the mark of the new underground inside Soviet - Germany, miles inland from Berlin and its foreign correspondents. It is the mark of terror to come against the Red Gauleiters who are trying to run the Russian zone for Moscow.

RIESEL

The Sign of The Snail was first created by the German labor unions (DGB) whose headquarters are in the bombed-out steel and coal city of Dusseldorf.

-:-

IT WAS used at first merely to urge their fellow workers in the Russian Zone's new munitions and heavy industry to slow down — work at snail's pace.

But now, having cost the Russians vast production losses, it has become the sign of all underground resistance.

Originally the thought came from the Danes and the Norwegians, who, during the Nazi occupation in the last war painted tortoises on factory walls as the sign of the most terrific sabotage technique of all — the slow down.

The German anti-Communist labor leaders decided the snail was simpler and quicker to draw with the secret police always around the corner.

I have seen packages of thousands of tiny onion skin newspapers, six by eight inches in size, prepared for underground distribution in East Germany — and at the bottom of the front page are six little snails in a row.

EACH IS on a white background the size of a stamp. Each is perforated on three sides. These are snipped by the underground workers and carried in the palm of their hands.

If caught they can swallow and digest the stamp-size piece of tissue paper.

If not, it is used by one anti-Communist worker to identify himself to another, it can be reported here for the first time.

The Sign of the Snail is not even known in West Germany, much less anywhere else throughout the world, although it was created and the little underground newspaper, Die Kleine Tribune, is prepared at German Labor's Hansbuckler Haus, Stromstrasse, in Dusseldorf.

The underground activity pivots on the slogan: "Whereever you see the Sign of The Snail, you'll find people who think as you think."

And so the anti - Communist movement is giving the Russian invader the underground treatment given the Nazi invader in other lands during the last war.

THE SLOWDOWN era of the Snail worked well. It was the appeal for sabotage of Soviet production which helped to convince German workers to slash their output — and it turn did much to provoke the Russian authorities to order further speedups thus leading to the June Day riots.

Now the Snail is being used to terrorize the Russians and their Red Gauleiters. Today over Soviet Zone factory walls, there can be found the Snail's new slogans:

"The Snail warns party and state we are completely fed up with you."

"Not a second of time and not an ounce of production for the Slave Labor State."

"Fight against those who let us hunger and who waste the fruits of our labor . . . (Deputy Prime Minister) Ulbricht feeds the people with as much meat as there is in a Snail."

"The Snail on each wall will make trouble for (Commie Boss) Grotewohl."

THESE CALLS to open revolt find fertile fields for recruits in the Soviet Zone, we have just been told by those who contact the East Germans regularly.

Hunger in East Germany is appalling. There's been virtually no meat since last December. The women must queue up for two slices of bread. There is no butter.

There is not even the great German staple — potatoes. In place of all this there is cheese — sometimes.

And IF there were such luxuries as butter, it would — and has — cost $10 a pound. Sugar is $2 a pound. Pork goes for $6 a pound, when it is available. Ladies' shoes are prohibitive at $48 a pair.

All this because Moscow has been ignoring the consumer industires and is rebuilding East Germany into an arsenal. It may explode in the Kremlin's collective face long before it can be used.

The "Sign of the Snail" is everywhere back of Berlin.

Proposed Debt Limit Hike Scored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Key Democrats said today President Eisenhower will be inviting a major debt if he proposes an increase in the 275 billion dollar debt limit in this session of Congress.

Senators George (D-Ga) and Byrd (D-Va) joined Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in predicting the Senate will reject any increase at this time.

And Sen. Williams (R-Del) said in a separate interview that unless the administration can produce a lot of facts he doesn't now know, he will oppose lifting the statutory ceiling.

"I don't believe the administration can get any such proposal through the Senate," Williams said.

Australia Establishes New Guinea Post

SYDNEY, Australia (UP)—Establishment of a border observation post illustrates the tense feeling between Australia and Indonesia over the issue of Dutch New Guinea (Irian).

On Feb. 1, 1953, Army Minister Joshua Francis announced that Australia is building a "watch on Indonesia" outpost a Wanimo, a tiny mission station and government post 18 miles from the border of Australian and Dutch New Guinea. Francis said another outpost would be established at Rabaul.

The Republic of Indonesia has sporadicaly demanded Western New Guinea from The Netherlands but each time Australia bitterly opposed the demands and supported Dutch reluctance to part with the primitive but potentially rich area.

Construction of the outpost, in one of the world's most inaccessible jungle fastnesses, climaxes numerous reports in the past two years of alleged infiltration of Indonesians into the Australian mandate territory of Eastern New Guinea.

Bucyrus Jaycees Plan City Ice Cream Social

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Members of the Bucyrus Junior Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring a community-wide ice cream social at Aumiller park here Wednesday afternoon and night, Aug. 12.

Proceeds will be used to pay the cost of insect-killing spray machine, which the Jaycees purchased this spring. The affair is being planned as a donation event with a door-to-door solicitation for funds. Contributors will be given tickets, which will entitle the holders to ice cream and cake and use of the swimming pool.

Jaycees pointed out that the entire city has been sprayed three times without any charge to the city or its residents and three more city - wide sprayings are planned before the summer is over.

Gen. Clark Announces Morale-Boosting Drive

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark, U. N. Far East commander, has announced that with the advent of an armistice in Korea the full weight of the joint command has been thrown behind a morale-sustaining program for personnel in Korea.

Clark has instructed commanders of all services to use every available facility in maintaining morale. He said that care will be taken to avoid dull, repetitive training schedules without definite ends in view.

Trinidad (Trinity) in the West Indies was so named by Columbus because of the three mountain peaks on the island which are seen by visitors arriving from the east.

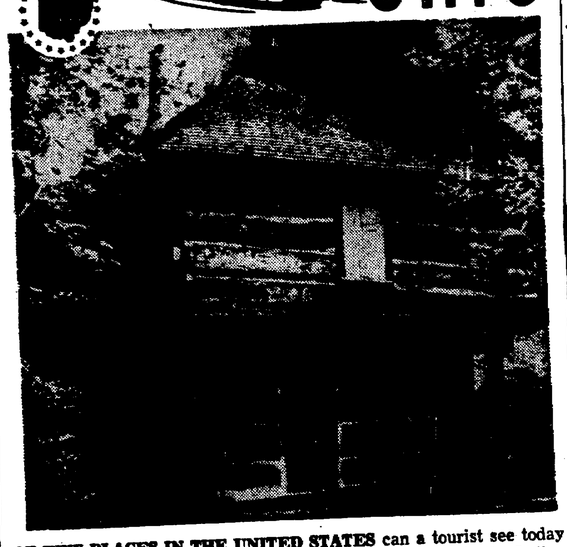
LET'S EXPLORE OHIO



AT FEW PLACES IN THE UNITED STATES can a tourist see today a log blockhouse actually built by the pioneers and used in the Indian wars. This frontier fortification in a park in Mansfield not far from the crossing of two of Ohio's most heavily traveled highways, Routes 42 and 30, was built in 1812 and a military garrison occupied it after the battle of the Thames, where Shawnee Chief Tecumseh was killed.

Artillery Battalion Identified as 555th

SEOUL (AP)—The Army Wednesday said the 555th Field Artillery Battalion was the unit overrun by Chinese July 14 in the last big Communist offensive on the East-Central Front.

It was one of the worst massacres of Americans in the Korean War and the second in Korea for the battalion.

The battalion came out with only five of its 105mm howitzers. There were heavy losses of personnel and equipment, but they were not detailed.

SEEK CHINA TRADE

TOKYO (AP)—The lower house of the Japanese Diet today unanimously passed a resolution demanding the government ease restrictions governing trade with Red China, Kyodo News Agency reported.

Sen. Flanders First in Line To Replace Tobey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), who has declared the administration "foozled" the Korean settlement, appears today to have first call on a vacant seat in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Unless his colleague, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), should decide to claim the place, Flanders topped a list of GOP members eligible to succeed the late Sen. Tobey (R-NH) on the important committee.

Flanders has supported most of the administration's foreign policy programs but he told the Senate July 8 that "not everyone is in favor of ending the conflict in Korea with a dishonorable truce or on dishonorable terms."

Waiting in line behind Flanders with the choice of taking over the Tobey vacancy or any other that might arise are Senators Bricker (R-Ohio), Ives (R-NY), Jenner (R-Ind), McCarthy (R-Wis) and Malone (R-Nev), in that order.

Members who have served longest in the Senate have priority claims on open committee posts Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), the ailing majority leader, exercised that claim to take a seat on the foreign relations group for the first time this year.

Youth Learns He's American Citizen

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Andreas von Biel didn't know he was an American citizen until he had lived through World War II in northern Germany.

The family moved from the United States to Germany when Andreas was four weeks old and made their home on an estate which had been in the family since 1100.

The property, bombed several times by the Allies, was the point where Canadian and Russian troops met on May 3, 1945. Two years later, the Communists ordered the Biels to leave because of their "capitalistic affiliations."

It was then that a letter arrived from an American consulate, inviting Andreas to come to the United States and explaining that his birth in this country qualified him for citizenship.

Andreas, now 20, is a student at Cornell University, where professors say he shows promise as an electronics engineer. He has been interested in radio ever since Russian troops occupied the family estate in Germany. He accidentally tapped in on high-level telephone conversations between the occupying Russians and their home office.

Mean temperatures in the southern part of Ontario, Canada, are about the same as those of San Francisco, says the Ontario government.

Owners Have Trouble Finding New Homes for Horned Toads

By JOHN ROBSON

Five immigrants have arrived in Maion, trying to escape the heat and drought in Texas.

These aren't ordinary immigrants. They eat flies and ants for the main course of their meals. On top of that, they have sharp horns running down their backs and over their legs. You see, these immigrants are Texas horned toads.

They were sent to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKee of 243 Elm St. by their son, Rev. Cecil F. McKee of the First Methodist Church in Lyford, Texas.

When Rev. McKee sent the toads to his parents, he thought that they would make nice pets for some of the 14 grandchildren of the McKees. He acted without realiing that the mothers of the grandchildren would have something to say about the matter. So far, there have been no offers to supply the animals with permanent homes.

Mrs. McKee has hopes, however, that one of the grandchildren who lives in Newark will be interested enough in the creatures to take them back home with him the next time he visits Marion.

The toads are about two to three inches long. Along their backs, head, and legs are small horns which not only look like the real thing, but also feel like it. In order to avoid scratches on the hands, the animals must be lifted either by the sides or by the tail.

When lifted by the tail, one of the toads will spread out and become completely stiff. Stroking under the chin will put them to sleep in a matter of seconds.

Mrs. McKee reports that so far they haven't eaten too much since they arrived. Her son told her that red ants were one of their favorite dishes, but she says they had almost an entire boxful of the ants and wouldn't touch them. Later, however, they began to catch flies which ventured into the box in which they are kept.

Rev. McKee says that the animals spit blood out of their eyes when irritated. His mother hasn't tried getting them mad yet.

Mrs. McKee keeps the toads in a small box with wire over one end. She is planning to cover an orange crate with wire and set the entire bunch of them in the grass if her grandchildren won't relieve her of the brood. She says she is tired of catching bugs for them only to have the bugs go unmolested in the cage. Her philophy is to let them catch their own meals if they want to eat.

Mrs. McKee says the toads have exceptional hearing. At the slightest sound, they will lower their heads and seem to cower down, she added. There is a shell like covering on their stomachs. This is softer than the horns, but still much harder than the skin found on ordinary toads. They are supposed to be able to endure long periods with no food or water according to her son.

Most of the time the animals just sit in their cage and make very little motion. When they do move, though, they are very fast and can leap out of the way of danger with seemingly little effort.

Empire Building

By George Sokolsky

In the history of China, vast expanses of non-Chinese territories were conquered.

Again, a Chinese empire is being resurrected and the present rulers, like their Russian masters, seek to re-establish their country to the outermost boundaries ever held by the Chinese, even if the countries were taken by force, and even if the claims have lain dormant for centuries.

SOKOLSKY

Remote is the empire of Kublai Khan, the Mongol, who ruled from the Black Sea to the Pacific (1214-1294). The Mongols were not Chinese, but the conquerors of China, and their Yuan dynasty did not last long. Nor were the Mongols absorbed by the Chinese, as we are so often incorrectly told, on the theory that China is a sea that salts all waters.

THE MONGOLS receded, degenerated, and like some animals in the winter, hibernated until World War I and the Russian revolution stirred Asia to new life.

Such peoples as the Mongols, the Uzbeks, the Kazakhi, emerged anew, vigorously asserting themselves.

These, of course, Communist China will not attempt to conquer as long as Mao Tze-tung remains a satellite of the Kremlin.

But the remote boundaries of Chienlung (1736-96) lie open for conquest and restoration to China.

Chienlung was the greatest of the Manchu emperors, representing a race of Tartars who emerged out of Manchuria, conquered China, held Mongolia, established a suzerainty over Korea, Tibet, Burma and Annam (a part of Indo-China) and held for a while Nepal and Bhutan. Then the Manchus degenerated.

It is to the boundaries of Chienlung that Mao Tze-tung is pushing and his conquest of North Korea, in a major war against the United States, is the second step in the restoration of this empire.

THE FIRST was the bloodless conquest of Tibet, over which Great Britain and India also once claimed authority.

The third step will be Burma where the only resistance thus far has been a remnant of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists. The Burmese alone cannot withstand the Chinese Communist hordes.

The conquest of these vast areas involves not only "face" but also assures Communist China of a food supply.

The rice of Indo-China and Siam (Thailand) are essential to the Chinese economy, and it is clear geograpically and politically that Thailand must go as Indo-China goes.

The element of "face" in this complex is enormous, for the Chinese are an intensely nationalistic people, believing that their long history is evidence of superior qualities.

They do not, in their own language, speak of their country as China but as Chung Hua, the Middle Kingdom, the center of the universe.

REPRESSED by the Western powers since 1842, after they lost the Opium War, as it is called, they never gave up the fight for full independence.

This independence they have at last achieved, as regards the West but not as regards Soviet Russia, because, from every Asiatic standpoint, they have won the Korean War, won it fighting not only the mightiest of Western powers, the United States, but 15 other countries that moved into the fray as part of the United Nations.

I am speaking now strictly from an Asiatic standpoint. I recall my many conversations with Sun Yat-sen, the founder of modern China, whose memory is defied by Nationalist and Communist alike.

There were years when I was with him nearly daily and often he would put a large map of Asia on his study floor and point to the areas that once were China and these, he always said, would be restored to China.

Two of them, Tibet and part of Korea, have already been restored.

THE INTENSIVE nationalism of the Chinese has never been understood by Western peoples, although the evidence is clear and abiding.

On May 4, 1919, for instance, the students of Shanghai and Peking, from the elementary schools to the colleges, decided that the Paris Treaty should not be signed because it gave Shantung to the Japanese.

Soon all schools, then all factories and shops and places of amusement in China were closed.

This was a total expression by the Chinese people of the nationalism of a race and a culture. To most Westerners in China, it was only a hell - raising excitement started by some children.

One of those was Mao Tze-tung, who shall from this moment on proclaim himself as the Chinese who defeated the United States. In Asia, he will be believed.

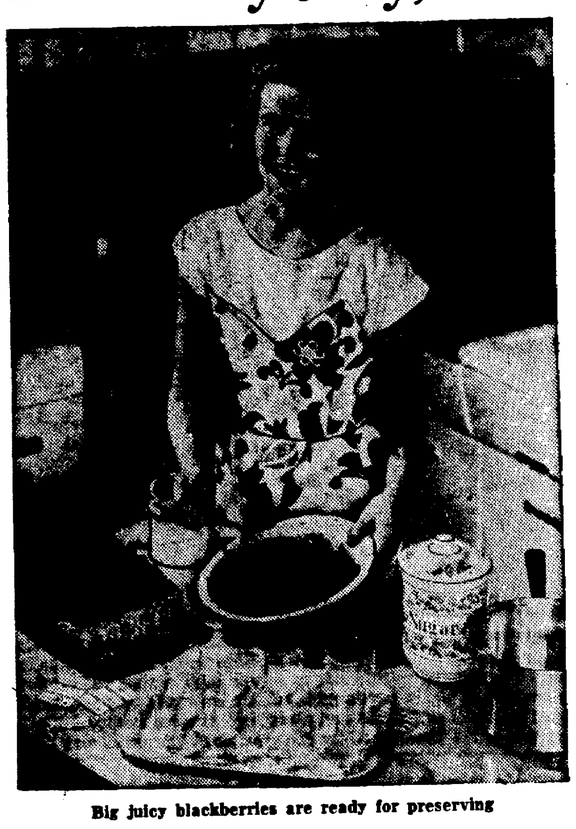
Blackberry Jelly, Jam



Big juicy blackberries are ready for preserving

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Breathes there a cook with soul so dead that, come summer, she can resist putting fresh fruit into the preserving kettle? Right now it's juicy big blackberries we're thinking of—boiling up in a purple-red glory, sending off their sweet fragrance. There to store away in small jars against winter days when a taste of summer's berry patch is so relished.

But if this fruity goodness is to be preserved to perfection, sterilizing jars and glasses is a must.

Paraffining comes next. Use a tin can in which to melt the paraffin. Then place a metal spoon close to the jelly's surface and let the melted paraffin flow over it onto the jelly in a layer about ⅛ inch thick. When it's set, prick any bubbles and pour a second ⅛-inch-thick layer of the paraffin. Now slightly tip and twirl the jar or glass to seal edges.

Powdered fruit pectin is called for in the following recipe. When it's used only a short boiling time is needed. Good yield results, too.

BLACKBERRY JELLY AND JAM

To Prepare the berries for both the jelly and jam crush thoroughly about 3½ quarts ripe blackberries (not blackcaps.) Place in a large sieve lined with a double thickness of cheesecloth and let juice drip through (do not squeeze.) Use juice for making jelly; use fruit remaining in sieve for making jam.

To Make The Jelly, measure 3½ cups juice into a large saucepan. Measure 5 cups sugar and set aside. Add on 2½-ounce box powdered fruit pectin to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 7 medium glasses.

To make The Jam, put half of fruit remaining in cheesecloth through sieve to remove some of seeds. Measure 5 cups pulp into a very large saucepan. Measure 7 cups sugar and set aside. Add one 2½-ounce box powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 11 medium glasses.

Pair of Pants Allows Burglar To Get Away

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—W. C. McLain, an Oklahoma City groceryman, was told Wednesday night that his store had been robbed and that the burglar was passing in front of his house with the loot at that very minute.

McLain looked out, and sure enough, the man was there.

Ready to dash out, McLain looked down and realized he did not have his pants on. By the time he could don them, the thief had escaped.

Vinegar warmed in a teakettle usually will loosen hard deposits which often form on such kettles.

Justices of Peace Have Jurisdiction In Game Law Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state attorney general has ruled justices of the peace have county-wide jurisdiction in enforcement of conservation laws.

Atty. Gen. C. William O Neill, in an opinion given to the director of the Department of Natural Resources, said justices of peace can enforce laws in all territory where their jurisdiction is not superceded by municipal courts.

O'Neil advised Director A. W. Marion that regulations and rules adopted by the parks division which are punishable as misdemeanors are in fact conservation laws.

Marion asked for a ruling in connection with enforcement of conservation laws and rules in Blue Rock State Park in Muskingum County. The park is located in Blue Rock Township which has no justice of the peace.

Marion asked O'Neill if a justice of the peace from nearby Falls Township would have jurisdiction to handle cases arising in the park. O'Neill ruled that he would.

Rubber Union OK's Strike at Firestone

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two locals of the CIO United Rubber Workers have authorized the union to strike Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. unless a contract agreement is reached by Aug. 25.

The local at Akron voted 4,470 to 375 for a strike and the local at Los Angeles approved the authorization 2,120 to 79. Results have not yet been announced from similar balloting by Firestone employes in other cities.

Nothing Like a Snake To Mind the Store

SYDNEY, Australia (UP) — Thirty-four stitches and 800 units of penicillin repaired a four-inch gash in the neck and fixed up Joe, a nine-and-a-half-foot diamond snake.

Joe's life was saved by a veterinary surgeon, Miss Beryl Bott, who pronounced the one-hour operation a complete success. The snake is owned by a produce merchant, Ray Prior, who bought the snake as a ratcatcher for his store.

"A snake is valuable around a store," said Prior. "You become attached to it."

Magic Carpet Age

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—We are just entering the real magic carpet age.

Before the year 2,000 some American mother, noticing her daughter furiously packing her suitcase on a Saturday morning, will ask:

"Where are you going, Mary?"

"To Cairo . . . they're having a houseboat-on-the-Nile party there tonight," Mary will reply. "Now don't worry, mother. I'll be home tomorrow afternoon."

Weekend tourist trips to the moon probably won't be popular until a few years after that.

Such ideas still sound a bit fantastic to us. But how the generation of 1900 would have hooted if someone had said that in 1953 airplanes would fly the Atlantic Ocean in less than five hours, as two jet bombers did this week in a routine journey at above 600 miles an hour.

Why, in 1900 only fools like those two dreamy but impractical Wright Brothers even thought a heavier-than-air machine could ever fly. The average man knew it was scientifically impossible.

In 1492 Christopher Columbus took about 70 days to sail the ocean blue and reach an island outpost of the Western Hemisphere. It took him 16 days more to reach Cuba, which he was sure must be Japan. After four days passed without seeing any Geisha girls, however, he decided he must be in some other part of Asia.

In 1620 it took the Pilgrim Fathers 96 days in the Mayflower to reach America, and there was no Grover Whalen to greet them. Nope, just a few wild Indians, completely uninhibited because at that time they had no reserva- that time they had no reservations.

As late as 1773 a traveler marveled at the speed and ease with which a fellow could go from Boston to New York in only a week, by riding a stagecoach every day from 4 a. m. to 10 p. m. How could progress go any further? Today you can fly the distance in less than an hour, and you don't have to get out and help push it if it gets stuck.

Today the space between nations is, in terms of time, less than the space between neighbors in the frontier days of Daniel Boone. But the distance between the earth's peoples, in terms of understanding each other, is still a vast gulf.

The world is shrinking faster than the human heart is expanding. That fact is the great danger of our civilization. We have built speedy machinery that makes each man a neighbor of every other man on earth, but no machine has been invented to make all neighbors friends.

Millions of people today can travel now to foreign places they could not afford to go to even a generation ago. But often they stay there only long enough to intensify a prejudice. It is more like a trip to the zoo than an adventure in discovering the fellowship of man. The foreigner seems even more foreign to them than if they had never seen him.

For such as these travel is narrowing, not broadening. They return home smaller in spirit, not larger.

They remind me of the old New Hampshire farmer who all his life had heard of the strange goings-on in Boston. At last he decided he simply had to go and see for himself.

He caught the morning milk train to the city. Late that evening he wearily stepped off a returning train at his depot.

"Have a good trip, Jeb?" asked a hanger-on.

"Yep."

"Tell me, what's Boston really like?"

"Boston?" said Jeb. "Well, to tell you the truth, there was so much going on at the railroad station I never did get out for a look at the village."

HEADS LIVESTOCK GROUP. Lester J. Utz of New Washington, O., (above) is the newly-elected president of Producers livestock Cooperative Association. He succeeds the late B. B. Brumley of McComb, who served as president of the association from the time of its formation in 1934 to his recent death. Utz is a veteran livestock farmer and farm leader. He has been a member of the board of directors of Producers since 1939, and from the spring of 1953 served as first vice-president of the association.

Federal Liquor Tax Reduction Is Sought

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A reduction of $4.50 per gallon in the federal tax rate on liquor has been asked by the National Retail Liquor Package Stores Assn.

A resolution adopted Tuesday urged Congress to reduce the present $10.50 tax to $6. It also advocated a law making bootlegging a felony and eliminating sale of liquor to unauthorized personnel on military establishments.

Mental Checkups May Be Routine

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP)—Dr. Nelson G. Hanawalt thinks the day is not too far away when annual psycological examinations will be as common as regular physical and dental checkups.

Hanawalt, associate professor of psychology at Rutgers University, bases his conviction on the "increased awareness of people to mental health problems."

"They are realizing that preventive mental hygiene is almost as important as the cure of mental disorders," he said.

Hanawalt believes mental health problems have become more common because of the stresses and strains of modern living. Some of the responsibility for this, he says, must be placed on the "breakdown of family and community units."

He said industrial and religious groups are leading the way in preventive mental hygiene by giving their personnel regular checkups by psychiatrists and psychologists.

The Maoris are believed to have immigrated to New Zealand in a great fleet of canoes in the 14th Century.

It's the Open Sandwich Season

OPEN FACE crab and cheese sandwiches for summer lunch.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's open season for open-style sandwiches. All of summer's bounty to use in their making! So inviting they look on the plate!

Perfect for warm weather, these open sandwiches, because you can prepare them quickly, vary them infinitely. Just how infinitely we have known ever since we visited the little country of Denmark, where the open sandwich is a national institution, and we counted 172 varieties on the menu of the famous Oskar Davidsen restaurant.

The advantage of the open sandwich, we read on the Davidsen bill, of fare, is its one piece of bread. This way there is "nothing to hide the lovely colors of the tasty morsels of meat, fish and vegetables" that are placed on it. Of course there's nothing to prevent you from eating as many open sandwiches as you like! Here, for instance, are some delectable combinations.

1. Mix a cup of finely chopped young fresh leaves of spinach with a third cup of mayonnaise and a little minced onion; pile on pumpernickel bread. Serve with another open sandwich of a slice of roast beef garnished with sliced hard-cooked egg, mayonnaise and watercress.

2. Pile tuna fish salad on a slice of rye bread, dust with paprika and garnish with green pepper and small sweet onion rings. Serve with another open sandwich of sliced avocado and pimiento strips.

3. Pile soft cheddar cheese mixed with chopped green olives and walnuts and mayonnaise on one slice of white bread; serve with an open sandwich of sliced ham and shredded lettuce.

4. Arrange slices of marinated cucumber on a slice of white bread; serve with another open sandwich of diced fresh lobster mixed with diced fresh lobster mixed with diced fresh tomato (peeled and seeded) and mayonnaise.

5. Put a thin slice of cold roast pork on a slice of whole wheat bread; serve with another open sandwich of sliced pickled beets and romaine garnished with mayonnaise.

For our last open sandwich we have a special recipe that goes over big whenever we serve it for lunch.

OPENFACE CRAB AND CHEESE SANDWICHES

Ingredients: One 6½-ounce can crab meat, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ½ cup real mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons milk, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 8 slices bread, extra mayonnaise, 2 tomatoes (sliced), 4 slices American cheese, pimiento-stuffed olives.

Method: Flake crab meat and mix with lemon juice. Blend ½ cup mayonnaise, milk and salt; toss lightly with crab meat. Spread half the bread with extra mayonnaise. Cover with tomato slices and top with crab meat mixture. On remaining bread slices place cheese. Broil crab meat and cheese until golden brown. Garnish center of open cheese sandwiches with sliced olives. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Women Making Bigger Impression

CLEVELAND, O. (UP) — Woming to evidenc ebroug hout tat en's feet are averaging a full size larger than 25 years ago, according to evidence brought out at the annual convention of the Ohio Chiropodists' Association.

Dr. Neil C. MacBane explained that this is part of the over-all development of the human race.

"People are taller than they used to be," Dr. MacBane said, "and their feet are proportionately larger."

He also cited a point that may come as a shock to males: "Women are more sensible (today) about shoes."

"They no longer crowd their feet into small shoes as they used to do," he added. "The younger generations have permitted their feet to stretch to normal length."

However, Dr. MacBane warned against too much foot freedom and pointed particularly to "flatties" popular with teen-agers. No arch support, he said.

"In later years these teen-agers may be troubled by foot or back trouble and bad posture," he added.

Dr. MacBane reported that nine of 10 adults have some sort of foot trouble, but that "only five per cent do anything about it."

Ashley Couple To Note 68th Wedding Year

Special to The Star

ASHLEY—Mr. and Mrs. John Slaughter of near Ashley will celebrate their 68th wedding anniversary, Aug. 15.

QUEEN N. H.

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) —While New Hampshire commonly is known as the Granite State, some writers in recent years have tagged it the Queen State, to wit: "Queen by her natural beauty; queen by her native hardy spirit; queen by her diversified industry; queen by reason of her motherhood of great men. She is enthroned on hills of grantite, diademed with sparkling waters and sceptered with industry."

The Viking Age of Scandinavia lasted from about 800 A.D. to about 1050.

Bankruptcy Deluxe

By Inez Robb

Economics are so frightfully, frightfully important in modern life—don't you think?—that I am as interested as the next poll pry in how the other half ekes out.

INEZ ROBB

So today I want to share a note I have just picked up on the rich, full life. I am indebted for this item, to which we shall come sooner or later, to a Broadway column, the mother-lode or main stream of social mores in this day and age.

-:-

IN THIS instance, the mother-lode reports that Dick Haymes, a crooner and some-time movie actor, is returning soon to Hollywood to file proceedings in bankruptcy.

Naturally I jumped — more shame to me!—to the antiquated conclusion that this Mr. Haymes is broke, busted and financially flat as a mackerel.

Then I read that Mr. Haymes while waiting to go home and go bankrupt is 1-Courting Miss Rita Hayworth and 2—Domiciled at the Plaza Hotel, both of which activities come under the heading of costly, even if Miss Hayworth picks up her half of the check.

But let us presume that the best things in life are free and that Miss Haywroth is content merely to walk in the park, hold hands, munch popcorn and never go near El Morocco, "21," Tiffany's or Sally Victor's.

STILL AND all, what strikes a new note in bankruptcy proceedings to me is the spot Mr. Haymes has picked in which to shrive himself, the Plaza Hotel.

It is a tribute to gracious living, which the leading magazines are always preaching, that Mr. Haymes, on the verge of declaring himself insolvent, has chosen to spend these final weeks at the Plaza.

Lesser men might have crept off to the Mills Hotel, the Railroad YMCA or the Salvation Army men's hostel on the Bowery.

They might even have tried to cadge a room with a pal. But Mr. Haymes has risen above these tawdry expedients and put up at the Plaza to insure bankruptcy and verity when he throws his empty pokey on the mercy of the court.

THERE IS a lofty idealism about this gesture which I find quite paralyzing, and I wouldn't be the least surprised if it doesn't leave Mr. Haymes's creditors in the same condition.

This crooner understands the true meaning of noblesse oblige, i.e., dry eye, stiff upper lip and room service to the last.

When I first read the item concerning Mr. Haymes making his last stand at the Plaza, I was inclined to cast an old-fashioned or jaundiced eye on this behavior. I was set aright by Miss Ann Gilles, a lady accustomed to working both with artists and money.

"What you fail to understand is that most people today are too poor to go bankrupt," she said, rather severely. "It takes money to go bankrupt in these inflationary times. Why, I know a number of persons who are now saving money to go bankrupt. Believe me, you can't do it on a shoe string any longer."

THIS WHOLE thing is an eye-opener to me. I shouldn't be surprised, if I nose around long enough, to find that there are bankruptcy clubs just like Christmas clubs.

And it is now apparent to me that Mr. Haymes, in the modern groove, has class with a capital "A."

University Promotes Interest in Americas

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP)—An idea developed by a group of college undergraduates is fast snowballing into a blueprint for inter-American good-will.

For the second straight year, a Student Conference on Inter-American Culture and Education has been held at Rutgers University to exchange ideas on the conservation of human and natural resources in North and South America.

Students disappointed with decreasing emphasis on the good neighbor policy in American international relations developed the conferences to re-awaken interest in the two Americas.

The conference last year attracted 600 students from high schools and universities, ambassadors of four Latin-American nations and U. S. State Department officials, all of whom participated in panel discussions on inter-American economics, culture and education.

Although it has proved impossible to keep the Arctic blue fox in captivity, it is kept on small Alaska islands, fed and then trapped when the fur is prime.

DIDN'T HURT. In Marquette, Mich., Larry Croisetiere decides that an injection of gamma globulin isn't as bad as he thought it would be. Larry is one of some 10,000 children in Marquette County being inoculated against polio. In his hand he's holding a lollipop, reward for being a brave boy. The mass inoculation has been dubbed "Operation Lollipop."

"Finger To God" Is Odd Sight Atop Southern Church

PORT GIBSON, Miss. (UP)—All nine churches in this town are located on the same street. And—surprise!—it's called Church St.

There's one church of the lot that stops strangers in their tracks. It's the Presbyterian Church. It looks like any other Protestant church in a small Mississippi town except for one thing.

Its steeple is topped by a 14-foot hand with a six-foot index finger pointing skyward.

Its origin is as deep a mystery as its design is unique. Presbyterians gladly tell you that their historic church—with its slave gallery still intact—was erected in 1859. They point with pride to the fact that its brass chandeliers featuring miniature statues of Gen. Robert E. Lee on his horse came from the steamboat of the same name that defeated the Natchez in the fabled Mississippi River race a century ago.

But they clam up when asked about the hand's origin.

"They just put it there instead of a cross," Mayor Frank C. Englesing said. "So far as I know there isn't any story. We call it our 'Finger to God.'"

But H. H. Crisler, editor of the Port Gibson, Reveille, confided there is a legend about that hand. It has never been authenticated, but members of other denominations like to tell it.

The founder of the church, he said, was a fiery evangelist named Dr. Zebulon Butler. It was at his urging that the present building was erected.

A plaque on its wall eulogizes him as "an evangelical divine."

"He was a man who depicted the fiery furnaces of hell in terms scorching enough to make the most hardened sinner quiver," Crisler related.

"And he had a gesture which held his congregations spellbound. It was the gesture of the clinched fist with a quivering index finger jabbing toward Heaven."

Dr. Butler did not live to conduct the first service in the new church. He died the day before it was to open and his funeral was the first activity in the new structure.

"And the members of the church got together to plan a memorial to this esteemed man of God," the newspaperman continued. "They wanted something unusual and they hit upon the idea of a hand pointing Heavenward in the very same gesture used by their departed pastor."

An Irish woodcarver fashioned the first hand and covered it with French gold leaf. But the woodpeckers filled it so full of holes it had to be replaced with the present metal version in 1890.

Higher Prices On Steak, Rib Roast Expected

Lamb Prices Decline; Good Buys Reported Among Vegetables

By The Associated Press

Most of the nation's food stores will add two cents to as much as a dime to the price of sirloin steak, rib roast and pork chops this week, but there are signs that a temporary peak has been reached.

To offset these increases, lamb prices generally will be a little lower. And the economy-minded housewife will find a number of good buys among vegetables.

One big chain said its weekend prices for sirloin steak will be up two cents in such cities as Pittsburgh, Washington and Los Angeles and up 10 cents in Jacksonville, Fla. Rib roast will be unchanged in some cities, but up eight to 10 cents in others.

Pork chops will continue their long price rise, with increases of six to 12 cents fairly common.

One meat specialist said beef declined at the wholesale level this week after its recent sharp rise, and suggested it probably would stabilize at present levels for some time. Pork also is slightly lower this week at the wholesale level.

Retail prices should drop a bit when these declines are passed along to the consumer.

Meat and fish department specials reported by some stores included haddock filets, smoked hams, frankfurters and ground beef.

Egg prices are unchanged to two to four cents a dozen higher. Butter shows little change in price.

The best buy in vegetables, produce men said, will be tomatoes. And good buys will include beans, broccoli, onions, potatoes and celery — especially the white, golden heart type.

Many stores will feature peaches, rated as the best fruit buy. Oranges, canteloupes and watermelon will be other specials.

Hospital Employee Makes Kids Happy

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — James H. Poe is just a maintenance worker at Fort Sanders Hospital, but to hundreds of hospitalized youngsters he is a year-round Santa Claus.

In the four years he has been at the hospital, Poe has made hundreds of dancing dolls and other toys. He gives them to the kids to help them forget their ills.

"I've learned," he said, "that if I can give the children something to occupy their minds, it will help overcome their pain and suffering."

"Sometimes people send money to me in the mail anyway," he said. "But I use it to buy manufactured toys and then give them to the children, too."

His rewards come in the form of the happy smiles on the kids' faces, and the letters of thanks they and their parents send him when they leave the hospital.

There was one childish scrawl that said:

"You are just like Santa Claus—only you don't look like him."

Give Your Doctor A Little Co-operation

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — Doctors aren't mind-readers, according to the Hartford County Medical Association.

The association's president, Burdette J. Buck, said a patient who says, "You're the doctor, find out what's wrong with me," is not getting his money's worth.

Physicians who aren't given a detailed description of symptons work at a disadvantage, the same as when patients exaggerate their ailments, he added.

Songbirds Drawn By Fried Spuds

WASHINGTON (UP) — Eat fried potatoes for breakfast if you want a yard full of songbirds.

That's the advice of Dr. A. Remington Kellogg, director of the Smithsonian Institution's national museum.

Kellogg is a biologist and a member of various organizations dealing with such things as mammoloy, herpetology, and zoology. In this case, however, he talks not only from his educational background, but from years of experience of eating fried potatoes for breakfast.

Kellogg explained that there usually are some fried potatoes left and these he throws on the lawn of his Chevy Chase home. Immediately mocking birds, catbirds, cardinals, and red-bellied woodpeckers gather around.

Kellogg said the fried potatoes attract more birds than the fancy bird-feeding stations put up by some of his neighbors.

These birds like the frying fat on the potatoes, he explained but robins do not like it.

Bible Gets a Police Guard for Travel

CHICAGO (UP)—One of the world's most valued literary treasures necessitated a police guard recently when it was moved from a secret vault in the Chicago Art Institute for display at a meeting of the Chicago Bible Society.

The Shuckburgh edition of the 500-year-old Gutenberg Bible, valued at $200,000 was taken in a special truck by secret routes to the meeting under a heavy police guard.

The Society wants to buy the bible, and with the aid of public support, purchase a building in which to keep and exhibit the rare volume.

The Shuckburgh Bible is printed in two volumes, each with red Moroccan covers. It was named after Sir George Shuckburgh, a member of a distinguished English family of the late 18th Century.

Practical Joke Turns on Typesetter

FOREST, Miss. (UP) — Robert Schmidt has sworn off practical jokes.

During a recent dull period, Schmidt, who sets type for the Scott County Times, set the following classified ad as a joke:

"The Old Lady wishes to make some extra change. Will make men's shirts to your size from print feed sacks. You have your choice of blue polka dot or red, green and white plaid designs. Send shirt size and specify if you want words 'Broiler Ration' on front or back."

Folks here knew it was a joke and quickly forgot it. However, Joe Howorth submitted it the The New Yorker as an oddity and the magazine reprinted it.

As a result Schmidt has been swamped with orders, including one of wholesale proportions from an exclusive Boston men's store.

SHOOTS DOWN LAST RED PLANE. Capt. Ralph Parr of Apple Valley, Calif., was credited with destroying a Soviet-made IL-12 transport plane, south of the Manchurian border, more than two hours after the truce was signed in Korea. It was the last Communist plane shot down before the cease-fire went into effect. The period between the signing of the truce and the cease-fire was 12 hours.

New Signal Device For Hospitals

CHICAGO (UP)—A "mechanical nurse" has been developed that can be used by hospitals plagued with a shortage of help.

The "mechanical nurse" is an automatic signal device that instantly alerts the nurse when a patient is unduly active or attempts to leave his bed.

The monitor can be engineered to connect into the audio-visual nurse call system and eliminates the necessity of a nurse remaining at the patient's beside all the time.

When a patient is overly active or attempts to get out of bed (movements which may be harmful to his medical condition) highly sensitive switches are activated. Electrical impulses turn on a red lamp on the nurse's intercom control station and a soft chime sounds.

Wherever the nurse may be, she is immediately notified that the patient must be attended to.

Ordinary motions of the patient do not activate the signals.

The monitor is especially valuable in the care of certain post-operative and psychiatric cases. It also helps the nursing staff keep tab on children too young to realize the need for remaining quietly in bed.

Bridge Toll-Checker Knows Pocketbooks

ST. LUOIS, Mo. (UP — Dennis J. Brady can confirm what every man thinks he knows—there's nothing like a woman's purse.

Brady has 20 years of experience to back up his judgment. He has spent much of that time watching women fumble through purses to find a dime to pay the toll over MacArthur Bridge on which Brady is toll-checker.

Some of them, Brady said, have three purses: a little one inside a medium-sized one and the medium one inside the big one.

"And after turning all three inside out," he said, "the dime shows up in a jacket pocket."

EXPENSIVE DINNER

LISBON (UP) — Police said that pigs ate a good portion of the 100,000 escudos ($3,500) that thieves had hidden in a pig pen after stealing from Carlos Manuel Rodrigues. The case was solved when inspectors spotted the gnawed remains of three 1,000-escudo notes.
